Introduction

Oh dear God, how are we supposed to introduce this? In your hands you are holding the most depraved, foul and offensive collection of jokes collected in one book.

You're probably expecting us to write something to justify this collection aren't you? Something erudite and wordy that explains that these jokes are a reflection of society's pressure points and fears? Nope. Sorry. You'll have to look elsewhere for that stuff, for we know the sordid truth: Sick jokes are guilty pleasures shared when you think no one who may be offended is listening.

And we've got the whole damn lot of them.

Even the ones where they said, "No, you can't print that, they'll fire-bomb the publishers".

But don't worry. If you do find yourself getting nauseated, just turn to the 'panic page' on p 168 where we've stuck some nice fluffy jokes and a picture of a kitten. See? All better now.

Enjoy the book!

How this book was made

Every joke in this book was submitted by the public. That's the cunning get out clause. This is your book! Not ours!

You see, we have a quite famous website called b3ta.com, and we asked our visitors to send in their sickest jokes. And they did, in bloody droves. Two and a half thousand of them to be exact, and when we threw away the crap ones we're left with this lot here.

Then we did the clever bit; we asked the site readers to send in illustrations to make the book look pretty. There's a full list of credits at the back, so if you want to give these people work, you should be able to find them.

So that was our dream. Make a book simply by asking the Internet to do it for us. And it worked. Lazy sods? Us? Yep.

Whenever there is a news event involving a major disaster or a celebrity there is always a joke being told in the pub, texted on a phone or sent by email. Here are some of your favourites.

To which the guard says, 'Come off it Brady, a few years ago we took you up to Saddleworth Moor, you had 3 days up there – all those wide open spaces and fresh clean air'.

► Ghosts are often claimed to be hallucinations. Certainly people can be tricked into 'seeing' things that do not exist. Stare at the cross in the centre of Lionel Ritchie's face, while you count slowly to 120. Then look at a plain ceiling. You should 'see' a phantom Lionel Ritchie dancing on the ceiling. If the image has not faded within 5 minutes, consult an optomexorcist.

Have you heard that Michael Barrymore has got a new TV show?

Two dead terrorists were found in Michael Barrymore's swimming pool.

They were suicide bums.

The Beatles

We were victims of changing circumstances while putting together this book. We collected together a lovely little set of Heather McCartney jokes, and the silly wench goes and instigates divorce proceedings, hence mucking them all up. See this as an historical record.

It must be hard being a Beatles wife, it can't be a coincidence that most of these jokes are directed at them.

...But then, Paul McCartney is the nation's new Queen Mum.

A journalist interviews Sir Paul McCartney about his knighthood:

'So, Sir Paul, do you think that you will ever go down on one knee again?'

Paul: 'Oi! Her name is Heather.'

But remember her this way...

Paul McCartney bought his wife a new artificial leg this Christmas but it wasn't her main present, it was just a stocking filler.

Did you hear about the cheese grater
Stevie Wonder's wife got him for his birthday?
*Most violent book he's ever read.

Stevie Wonder

Did you know that Stevie was blind? Ah, yes. We know that this is a stunning revelation, but please bear with us, there is a reason that we are telling you this: people can use this fact to make jokes. Actually, many of these jokes can be be rewritten for the famous blind person de jour: Ray Charles, David Blunkett and... er... many others too.

What's black and loud?

Stevie Wonder is playing his first gig in Tokyo and the place is absolutely packed to the rafters. In a bid to break the ice with his new audience he asks if anyone would like him to play a request.

A little old Japanese man jumps out of his seat in the first row and shouts at the top of his voice, 'Play a Jazz chord! Play a jazz chord!'.

Amazed that this guy knows about the jazz influences in Stevie's varied career, the blind impresario starts to play an E minor scale and then goes into a difficult jazz melody for about 10 minutes. When he finishes the whole place goes wild.

The little old man jumps up again and shouts, 'No, no, play a Jazz chord, play a Jazz chord'.

A bit ticked off by this, Stevie, being the professional that he is, dives straight into a jazz improvisation with his band around the B flat minor chord and really tears the place apart. The crowd goes wild with this impromptu show of his technical expertise.

The little old man jumps up again, 'No, no. Play a Jazz chord, play a Jazz chord'.

Well and truly outraged that this little guy doesn't seem to appreciate his playing ability, Stevie says to him from the stage, 'OK smart ass. You get up here and do it!'.

The little old man climbs up onto the stage, takes hold of the mike and starts to sing...

'A jazz chord to say I ruv you...'

Muslim

While we were talking to our publishers about the possibility of making this book, the Jyllands-Posten Muhammad cartoons controversy broke. The Welsh joke

Wales is a lovely place and we daren't say anything nasty about it as the official b3ta dad lives outside Cardiff and we don't want him knee-capped by the Taffia.

An Englishman, Welshman and West Indian are in hospital, waiting for their wives to give birth. There is quite a bit of pacing up and down when the nurse comes out and happily announces that they are all fathers of bouncing baby boys.

'There's just one problem,' she says. 'Because they were all born at the same time we got the tags mixed up and we don't know which baby belongs to whom. Would you, as their fathers, mind coming to identify them?'. The men agree and walk into the delivery room and look at the babies.

Immediately the Englishman stoops down and picks up the black baby. 'Yes, this is definitely my baby,' he says confidently. 'Um, excuse me,' says the West Indian, 'but I think it's fairly obvious that this is my son.' The Englishman pulls him aside and says, 'I see where you're coming from mate, but one of these babies is Welsh and I'm not prepared to take the risk'.

Black

When we started putting this book together people said, 'You are not racists, surely you're not going to run black jokes?'. Well, if we're going to use spaz jokes, Jew jokes and ginger jokes then it would be unfair to leave the darkies out just because they're black. That, chum, would really be racist.

Disability

Have we offended everyone yet? Who have we missed out? Send your emails to the Daily Mail and hopefully we'll get some publicity for this tawdry collection of PC-baiting nonsense. Actually, we know a Daily Mail employee and we asked him what he thought they would make of our little book. 'Oh, they'll love it. They love anything anti-PC. It's the liberal media who are more likely to get into a huff about this stuff.' So there you go.

How did the quadriplegic fall off the cliff?

He was pushed.

Man goes to the ticket office at the railway station.

The first one takes out a tablet, pops it in her mouth and the others enquire as to its nature. 'It's a calcium supplement so my baby's bones grow nice and strong,' she replies and carries on knitting. The second woman also pops a pill and answers the same question with 'It's vitamin C to ward off colds and boost its immune system,' and also carries on knitting. The final woman takes a tablet but when she's asked what it is she replies, 'Thalidomide'. The other two are horrified and demand to know the reason for taking it. She replies 'I can't do sleeves.'

Cancer vs. AIDS

A friend of ours thinks cancer is funnier than AIDS as science has virtually cured AIDS via combination drug therapy. 'It no longer has the sting it once has. Although AIDS was mainly funny because gays got it.' ... We need new friends.

What's black and has 17 tits?

The binbags behind the breast cancer ward.

What did the blind, deaf and dumb kid get for Christmas?

Not all jokes have somewhere to live. Maybe you'll take these under your tender wing?

What's worse than finding

Anti-jokes

Jokes work by confounding your expectations. Some work by expecting you to know the punchline and going somewhere different. Like these little beauties.

Police and hippies

Gawd – this is nostalgia city. Remember the 1990s and crusties? If these people still exist, these are the jokes they're still telling.

What animal has a cunt in the middle of its back?

A police horse.

What do you call a woman police officer who shaves?

What's orange and looks good on a hippie?

One-liners

We've concentrated on jokes that are two liners. Here's others that didn't quite fit but we fancied sticking in anyway.

'Yes, Mrs. Lincoln, but did you enjoy the play?'

'I want to die in my sleep like my Grandad. Not kicking and screaming like his passengers.'

'Did you hear about the gynaecologist who decorated his house through the letter box?'

'It costs 10p to send this message. That's enough money for an African child to buy food and water to live on for a WHOLE DAY. Send this message to seven people and starve the cunt for a week.'

'A paraplegic walks into a bar. Only joking...'

'In today's news, police in Alabama found the body of black man hanging from a tree. His arms and legs had been cut off, he'd been set on fire and shot seven times. The Sheriff said it was the worst suicide he'd ever seen.'

Cruelty to animals

One of the first jokes we remember as a child was about the butcher shop with the sign, 'Watership Down. You've read the book, you've seen the film and now eat the pie'. All seems rather nostalgic now that rabbit meat has mostly dropped off the menu. On a similar note isn't Chas and Dave's line 'You've got more rabbit than Sainsbury's' a strange anachronism now?

A baby seal walks into a club...

Boom. Boom.

How do you stop a dog shagging your leg?

Suck its cock.

What's black and white and red all over?

SICK JOKES

Poetry corner

We asked people to send us jokes, we didn't expect bloody poetry. However, we liked a few of them so here goes...

Jack and Jill went up the hill
So Jack could lick Jill's fanny
All he got was a mouthful of cum
'Cos Jill's a fucking tranny

Not quite a joke...

There was an old woman
Who lived in a shoe
She had so many children
Her cunt fell out

There once was a man from Nantucket
Whose dick was so long he could suck it
He said with a grin
As he wiped off his chin
'If my ear was a cunt, I would fuck it'

There was a young chap called Dave
Who kept a dead whore in a cave
He said, 'I admit
She does smell a bit
But look at the money I save'

I love my dog and he loves me
And that's the way love is supposed to be
But when it comes to having sex
'Woof Woof Woof!' barks my dog Rex

"Jesus you cheating shite!"

Mime jokes

Aha! This bit of the book is a little different. These are jokes for you to learn and play out to your friends in the pop with actions. They are our favourites you know.

How many shredded wheat does Superman eat for breakfast?

(Pause, stare at them, and blink twice.)

You're sitting in a pub. Ask your mates what a woman says after her first blow job. Take a sip of your pint as they ponder the answer, and retain the beer in your mouth. Pause for a few seconds. Then say 'I wuv you!' allowing beer to spurt everywhere.

Why was Jesus so popular with the ladies? Because he was hung like THIS.

(Adopt crucifix position, palms forward as if indicating penis size.)

How does Jesus masturbate?

(Silently hold hand out flat over crotch, palm facing inward, and move hand in and out in a waving gesture.)

How does Jesus masturbate?

(Assuming that your audience already knows the joke, then here's an alternative ending, Stretch arms out, as if on a cross and make downward grabbing motions with your mouth as if you're attempting to suck yourself off. Extra points for miming frustration.)

What does the cum of a 12-year-old boy smell like?

What's this?

(Stick some paper money under your chin and dribble.)

Stephen Hawking at a titty bar.

What's this?

and tap the ground with your foot.)

I came this close to a blow-job last night

(Hold thumb and forefinger a centimetre apart.)

(Bend over as far as you can and try to reach crotch with your mouth.)

What's this?

(Assume crucifix/cross position with feet and legs firmly together, and then swing arms and torso
in a bendy circular fashion.)

Jesus on a rubber cross.

What's this?

(Assume crucifix/cross position with feet and legs firmly together, neck slack in recently-deceased fashion.)

A truly shit way to spend Easter.

What does a gay man say after sex?

(Let some frothy spit dribble out your mouth.)

What's this?

(Rub your chin against each shoulder whilst grinding your teeth.)

Superman putting on his cape.

What's this?

(Make wheelchair motion with your hands, but occasionally flick your head back.)

The Paralympic Hurdles.

And special thanks to

Butters of <http://madandugly.drunkrhino.com/> for drawing the lovely flickbook thingie.

The book you are holding in your hands is – without doubt – the sickest collection of sick jokes the world has ever seen. Sick jokes about religion, sick jokes about dead celebrities; sick jokes about injured babies; sick jokes about animals. And don't even get us started on the cartoons.

Yes, there may be plenty of other joke books that claim to be 'sick' or 'bad taste' or – worst of all – 'politically incorrect'. But those joke books are frauds. The jokes in this book are so sick that the major book shops refused to stock it unless we wrapped it in plastic. And the last time they did that was with Madonna's 'Sex' book.

This book is officially as sick as Madonna. And that's pretty sick. Here's a slightly-censored taster...

What's black and sits at the top of the stairs?

Stephen Hawking after a house fire?

What's black and blue and afraid of sex?

The CENSORED in my CENSORED

Why does CENSORED like sex with twenty eight year olds?

Because there are twenty of them.

What's black and loud?

Stevie Wonder answering the iron

What's red and white and sits in a tree?

A sanitary owl.

What's got one ball and CENSORED prostitutes?

CENSORED
