TAREK FLIPS & FLOPS!

AMID A RANCOROUS
DIVORCE, TAREK EL MOUSSA
LEAVES THE DOOR OPEN FOR RECONCILIATION WITH HIS EX CHRISTINA

WORK SPOUSES

Tarek seems to be missing his home life with Christina more than she is.

If he were this indecisive about his home remodeling, Tarek El Moussa would never get to put up a “For Sale” sign!

Two months after filing for divorce from Christina, his wife of seven years and costar on HGTV’s Flip or Flop — and less than a week after insisting he has “totally moved on” — Tarek, 35, is reminiscing about the good times with his ex, and even talking about reuniting someday.

“You know, we just had chemistry,” he mused in a Feb. 24 interview. “We were absolute best friends, we were soul mates... We were the couple that other couples would be jealous of.”

Tarek admits that the chemistry “started to fade” over the years — an understatement in light of the explosive fight last May that resulted in a call to the Orange County, Calif., police and the couple’s split, announced to fans in December. Since then, he and Christina, 33, have dated other people (including, in his case, their kids’ former nanny) but continued to film their hit show and coparent daughter Taylor, 6, and son Brayden, 18 months. Tarek’s divorce filing on Jan. 9 — he even asked for spousal support and for Christina to pay his legal fees — seemed to signal the end of an era.

TOGETHER AGAIN?

But as the exes have hit the PR trail separately in recent weeks, Tarek has suddenly started waxing nostalgic about their personal bond, saying it was hard to see his wife with someone else (Christina’s relationship with a contractor has since ended). “It is one of those things where you have to stay positive... and just not think about it,” said Tarek, adding that he could imagine reconciling with his ex “maybe, like, 10 years from now.”

A nice idea, but probably wishful thinking, an insider says: “Honestly, Tarek seems a little delusional at this point. Obviously this is an emotional time for both of them, but he may be struggling more than she is to move forward.”

INSIDER

Strife over the ex-couple's daughter, Luna (here in 2013), plus mounting legal bills have Uma exhausted, a source says.

Uma Thurman has a lot on her plate these days, and the stress is showing. The Kill Bill beauty was spotted on Feb. 24 in New York, trying to relax with a smoke but looking awfully tired and unkempt. It's no wonder, friends say: Uma went through the wringer in January, gaining primary custody of her 4-year-old daughter, Luna, after a bitter battle with ex-fiancé Arpad Busson — which included accusations from him that she abuses alcohol. Now, she still has to arrange Arpad's visits with Luna, and “anytime she deals with him, it’s difficult,” says an insider. “Things are always very prickly between them.”

With more than $200,000 in attorneys’ fees to pay, the source continues, “Uma’s told her agents to keep the projects coming.” She’s read for a Broadway play, The Parisian Woman, and she’s also filming The War With Grandpa opposite Robert De Niro in Atlanta.

“She’s been doing a lot of traveling,” says the insider, “and she feels the heat working with De Niro. She’s a bit intimidated by him and wants to do a great job. But she hasn’t given herself a chance to rest, and she needs a break badly.”

DWTS CAST REVEALED!

THE FAVORITE SIMONE BILES

Expect this pint-size powerhouse to score big with the same combination of athleticism and grace that earned her Olympic gymnast teammate Laurie Hernandez the Mirrorball Trophy last season. Her partner, Sasha Farber, is "the first guy I've ever danced with," the 20-year-old has said. "He's very patient."

THE RINGER NANCY KERRIGAN

Once you've battled your way back from a knee injury — a vicious attack made to boost the fortunes of rival ice-skater Tonya Harding — to win silver at the 1994 Olympics, everything else is a walk in the park. "I think having performed to music, I have a little bit of an advantage," Nancy, 47, said. Not to mention nerves of steel!

THE THROWBACK MR. T

It has to be said: We pity the fools who have to compete against this A-Team icon! Born Lawrence Tureaud, the actor and former wrestler, 64, is famous for his Mohawk 'do, his multitude of gold chains and his brash, tough-guy style. He may not be as fleet of foot as some of the other dancers, but he's sure to get points for popularity.

KANYE & KYLIE'S BEAUTY BATTLE

"Kim's trying to keep the peace," says a source, "but neither of them is budging."

Kanye West and Kylie Jenner are engaged in an epic family feud, and Kim Kardashian's caught in the middle! Sources say Kylie is spitting mad that her rapper-designer brother-in-law is planning to launch a cosmetics line, named for his late mother, Donda — after she's built her own brand around her famous Lip Kits and other millennial essentials. "She freaked out when she heard," says an insider.

As for Kanye, he never got over Kylie's signing last year to promote Puma, a direct competitor of his Yeezy line with Adidas. "This is his way of evening the score," the source says. Now, "they've basically stopped talking to each other. Kylie thinks Kanye is a control-freak madman, and he thinks she's a spoiled brat." And they're both complaining to Kim, "who's beside herself over the friction." There may be no making up after this!

Emily, who's in London filming Mary Poppins Returns, has offered to host Amal's baby shower.

EMILY & AMAL BONDING OVER BABIES

Amal Clooney is an expert on the law, but she's got a lot to learn about breast-feeding. Enter mom of two Emily Blunt, who's "giving Amal tons of advice" about the twins she's expecting in June, an insider says. It was Emily and her husband, John Krasinski, who helped persuade their old friend (and Amal's hubby) George to become a dad, and they've all been spending weekends at the Clooneys' estate in England, adds the source: "They've become very close." Close enough for godparent status?

"Demi thinks the house has dark energy," says a source.

DEMI SELLING HOUSE OF HORRORS

A failed marriage and a tragic accident have Demi Moore convinced she's got to sell her Beverly Hills home. "It holds too many bad memories," says a source. She lived there with her ex Ashton Kutcher, "and she suspects he brought in other women when she wasn't around," the insider says. Then, in 2015, a young man drowned in the pool during a party; Demi was out of town, but his parents are now suing, and "she feels the house is cursed. She needs a fresh start, and she wants to unload it by summer."

EDWIN HODGE'S LOBSTER ROLL

SERVES: 6

TOTAL TIME:
45 MIN.

SKILL LEVEL

If you missed Edwin Hodge as a Navy SEAL on the History Channel's dramatic scripted series Six, fear not: It was renewed for a second season; and in the meantime, you can still catch him on Fox's Sleepy Hollow. But acting isn't his only artistic outlet. Edwin loves to experiment in the kitchen, taking dishes he's had and "adding flavors that appeal to me," he says. "Cooking isn't fun without a little creativity." To that end, he's given his lobster roll — the New England classic — a Maryland twist, cooking the meat with beer and that beloved spice mix in the yellow tin, Old Bay, as you would for a below-the-Mason-Dixon crab or shrimp boil.

Ingredients

- 2 12-oz. beers (Heineken is preferred)
- 2 tbsp. Old Bay, divided
- 1 lb. lobster tail and claw meat
- 1/2 cup chopped parsley
- 1/4 cup chopped basil
- 5 cloves garlic, 3 chopped finely
- 2 tbsp. lemon juice
- Salt
- 3 tbsp. butter
- New England-style hot dog buns

Directions

1. In a large pot, add the beer and 1 tbsp. of Old Bay. Bring to a light boil. Set a steamer basket over the pot, add the lobster tails and claws and steam for 8–10 minutes, then set aside.

2. In a mixing bowl, combine the parsley, basil, 3 cloves finely chopped garlic, 2 tbsp. of lemon juice, 1 tsp. of salt and 1 tbsp. of Old Bay.

3. In a saucepan, add 2 tbsp.

of butter and 2 garlic cloves. Brown the butter on low heat, removing the garlic cloves once they become fragrant. Add the herb mixture and lobster. Stir to combine the flavors, turn off heat, cover and let it set for a few minutes. Toast the buns with a touch of butter, fill each with heaping spoonfuls of the lobster mixture and enjoy.

COUPLES NEW

Their romance ignited at last year's Golden Globes, but came unraveled at this year's Oscars. Katy Perry and Orlando Bloom have broken up — and while their reps insisted in a joint statement on Feb. 28 that the exes are simply “taking respectful, loving space,” OK! sources report that the yearlong courtship suffered a tumultuous end.

Katy, 32, spent years enduring the antics of her exes — famed playboys Russell Brand and John Mayer — and “had started to feel like some kind of man repellent who'd be alone forever,” says an insider. “This time around, she was trying way too hard to prove to Orlando that she's wife material.” The source says Katy went so far as to write thank-you notes to Miranda Kerr, his ex-wife, for letting her have time with their 6-year-old son, Flynn. “It was overkill,” says the insider. “Even Orlando's latest castmates started pointing out that Katy seemed clingy. And it seems he agreed.”

Orlando, 40, was perhaps trying to establish his independence when he was caught canoodling with Selena Gomez last year, or with “many ladies,” according to the source, in Shanghai, where he's filming Smart Chase: Fire & Earth (“Katy had her spies in China!” the source reports), or with young brunette Erin McCabe at a pre-Oscars bash on Feb. 22. Finally, at Vanity Fair's Oscars party, he showed up with Katy... but left alone. “Things were tense all night,” says a source, “so they went their separate ways — possibly forever.”

At a Feb. 22 bash for Global Green, Erin McCabe, whose dad runs the charity, reportedly swapped place cards to sit next to Orlando, who spent the night rubbing her back and whispering in her ear.

Gloria did the hard work on a grocery run with Irina, 31, in December.

As Irina Shayk gets ready to welcome her and Bradley Cooper's first child, she's really leaning on her partner — his mom, that is! With the actor, 42, consumed by his remake of A Star Is Born (which he wrote, stars in and is directing), he's unable to focus on crib sheets and Lamaze classes. But his mother, Gloria Campano, who lives with the couple, is stepping up in his absence. "Gloria's been helping out with everything from decorating the nursery to stocking up on supplies and even scheduling pampering sessions for Irina," says a source. "She's so excited for this grandchild, and Bradley and Irina are beyond grateful for her support. It's really brought them all closer together."

Bradley's Mom

The duo first costarred in the 2013 film Her, playing exes.

Joaquin & Rooney's

TALE OF TWO CITIES

Joaquin Phoenix and Rooney Mara went from friends to lovers on the Italian set of Mary Magdalene late last year, but the costar couple may have hit a snag of biblical proportions: According to an insider, the actor, 42, is begging New York City-based Rooney, 31, to move to L.A., where he's set to film back-to-back projects — but she hates Hollywood! "They're very serious, so she's torn over what to do," says the insider. "She gave in and spent Oscars weekend there with him, but she's a New Yorker through and through and is digging in her heels about relocating." Remaining on opposite coasts could spell trouble, the insider says: "They've barely been apart since things turned romantic; who knows if it'll work long-distance."

TAYLOR STUCK ON JAKE

In the song she supposedly wrote about him, "All Too Well," Taylor Swift called ex Jake Gyllenhaal "casually cruel." Years later, it seems she's willing to forgive — and then some. A source close to the singer, 27, says she's been quietly reaching out to the 36-year-old actor, whom she dated for two months in 2010, since he's been in New York City for his starring stint on Broadway in Sunday in the Park With George, and they're slowly rekindling their romance. "Taylor was so young when they dated, she wasn't ready for a serious relationship, but now she's showing Jake how much she's matured," says the source. "She's excited to see where things go." So much for never, ever getting back together!

"Jake is one of the only exes Taylor has managed to stay friendly with," says a source.

The way they were, in 2010

Liev's NAOMI LOOK-ALIKE

It looks like Liev Schreiber has moved on since ending his 11-year romance with Naomi Watts in September. The Ray Donovan star, 49, took Minnie Driver's younger sister, producer Kate, to the Oscars afterparties on Feb. 26. Not only is the lithe blonde the spitting image of Liev's ex (albeit a good six inches taller), Kate has actually known Naomi, 48, for more than 20 years! "Naomi is trying to handle this gracefully, but she felt totally betrayed when they revealed to her that they're dating," an insider says. "Now she's wondering whether there was a spark between Liev and Kate years ago. She's really torn up about it." Guess all's fair in love and war?

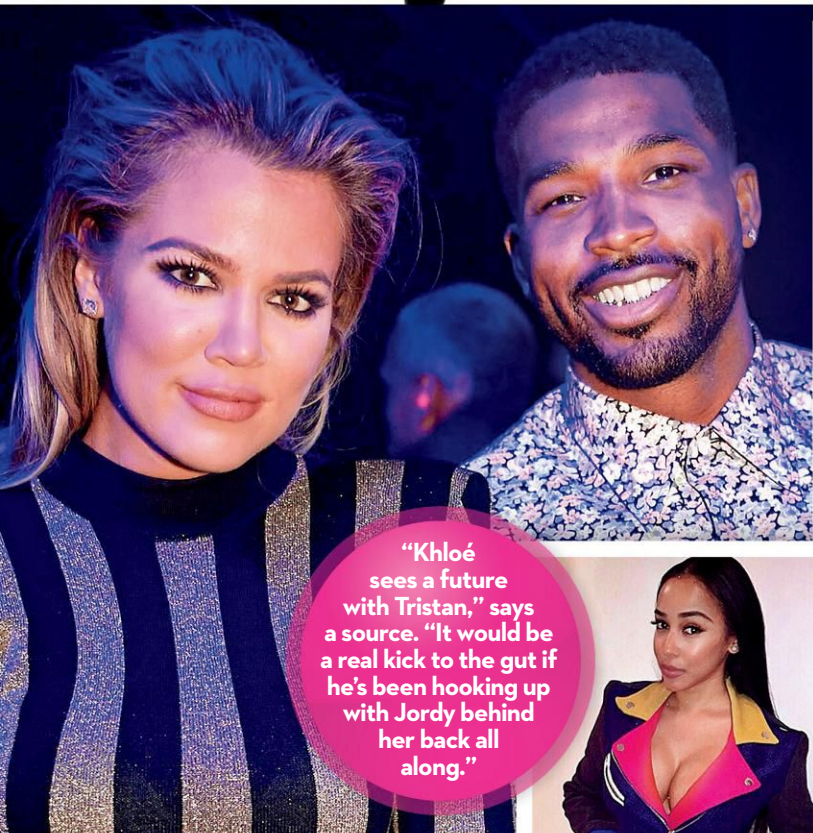

Liev and Naomi (inset) share custody of their two young sons.

Keith to Nicole:

IT'S MOVIES OR ME!

They may pack on PDA while cameras are flashing, but a friend says that Nicole Kidman has become "so obsessed" with her career that behind closed doors, the Lion star's union with hubby Keith Urban is far from picture-perfect. "Keith is fed up with Nicole parading him around from one red carpet to the next," explains the pal. "She's desperate to stay at the top of the A-list and more focused on her image than their marriage." Now that awards season is over, the source says, Keith hopes the couple, both 49, can give their relationship some attention. Adds the source, "He's told Nic she needs to rethink her priorities."

"Khloé sees a future with Tristan," says a source. "It would be a real kick to the gut if he's been hooking up with Jordy behind her back all along."

Tristan

CHEATING ON KHLOÉ?

Khloé Kardashian has admitted that she hopes boyfriend Tristan Thompson is The One, but her search for true love may be far from over. A source tells OK! that the NBA star, 26, is still hooking up with model Jordy Craig, the mother of his 3-month-old son, Prince! "Tristan has been juggling both women this whole time," says the source. "Whenever he goes to Jordy's, he says it's only to see the baby, but he's still sleeping with her. It's the perfect cover-up." Though Khloé, 32, has had her suspicions at times, the source says, she's never caught Tristan red-handed — though if she does, she may look the other way. Says the source: "After all her bad luck with men, Khloé would be too embarrassed to admit she got played again."

HOW GROWING UP IN THE TRUMP FAMILY AND WEATHERING THE HARSH GLARE OF THE NATIONAL SPOTLIGHT HAS BROUGHT THESE SISTERS CLOSER

A TRUSTED AIDE
Ivanka joined her father in the Oval Office on Feb. 27 as he signed bills aimed at recruiting more women into science fields.

Before Ivanka and Tiffany Trump became two of the most famous sisters on the planet (Kardashian who?), they'd formed a bond that transcended their 12-year age difference and childhoods spent on opposite coasts.

As devoted as they were to standing behind their dad, Donald Trump, and endorsing him on the campaign trail — each speaking eloquently at the Republican National Convention about his “positive values and... strong ethical compass” (Ivanka) and “friendly [and] considerate” character (Tiffany) — they’ve been equally committed to sticking allowance. Behind the scenes, Ivanka writes, she went to Donald and “suggested he think about surprising Tiffany with a credit card for Christmas, with a small monthly allowance on it.” Her plan worked, and her younger sis “was thrilled and relieved. And so appreciative.”

Ever since, Ivanka, 35, and Tiffany, 23, have shown up for each other and stuck together. Tiffany was a bridesmaid at Ivanka’s 2009 wedding to entrepreneur and presidential advisor Jared Kushner and has publicly declared her admiration of her older sis, telling Oprah Winfrey in 2011, “My brothers and sister, they’ve all achieved so much in their lives and had so much success.” Tiffany no doubt Ivanka stayed calm when a fellow JetBlue passenger started shouting at her in December.

Tiffany and Ivanka's mutual moral support has certainly been needed in recent months, as they've each faced harsh post-election criticism. During a holiday flight with her kids, a passenger verbally accosted Ivanka, who kept her head down and continued coloring with her kids as the disrupter was escorted off the plane. And at New York Fashion Week in February, editors sent out snarky tweets about empty seats next to Tiffany. Says a source, "They're bullied and insulted by strangers all the time now, and they've talked about how hurtful it is. But they never complain publicly. They just lean on each other when it happens."

At the Philipp Plein show during NYFW, a fashion editor claimed that "no one want[ed] to" sit near Tiffany, tweeting this pic.

"Tiffany won the gig on merit," says an insider, "but Ivanka gave her the name of the right person to talk to. She was happy to help in any way."

And of course, Tiffany has continued to look to Ivanka as an example of how to deftly handle their father's high expectations. "He pushes all of his kids really hard," says the insider, "but he's really supportive of them too. Ivanka and Tiffany love that the most about him. They think it's made them stronger."

FORGING AHEAD

After Tiffany's graduation last May, she moved to New York, where she joined the Trump campaign efforts and became an ever-present, doting aunt to Ivanka's three kids, Arabella, 5, Joseph, 3, and

Theodore, 11 months. "It's wonderful," Ivanka said at the time, adding that Tiffany would often spend weekends at Jared and Ivanka's country home in New Jersey, embracing her role as Auntie Tiff. "She's always with my kids. She's a really good person."

While their new lives as First Daughters keep them busy — Ivanka has jumped into her senior advisor role in the White House, while Tiffany is balancing public life with studying for the LSAT — they've remained an active presence in each other's lives. "Tiffany seeks Ivanka's advice on everything, from guys to clothes," says an insider, "and especially how to navigate this new world of constant public scrutiny. If it weren't for Ivanka's guidance, she'd feel overwhelmed. But their bond is one of the things that keeps her grounded and focused on the future."

DUTY CALLS

Ivanka and Jared are embracing their political roles, moving into a new home in Washington, D.C., in January (above), and more recently flying the family to West Palm Beach (right) to welcome the Japanese prime minister alongside the president. But Tiffany plans to stay as connected to her sis as possible, especially in her role as beloved aunt (above).

Kate
& Chris'

CUSTODY BATTLE

NEARLY A DECADE AFTER THEIR DIVORCE, KATE HUDSON AND CHRIS ROBINSON ARE HEADED BACK TO COURT OVER THEIR SON

FATHER FIGURE

Compared to Kate, a source says, Chris lives a rather “settled” life in the San Francisco area these days, with wife Allison and their 7-year-old daughter, Cheyenne.

When Kate Hudson and Chris Robinson divorced back in 2007 after seven years of marriage, they agreed to share custody of their son, Ryder, who was a toddler at the time. As Kate explained back then, “Our main focus is, and was, Ryder, and happy parents, happy baby. Therefore, I love Chris to pieces.”

Nearly a decade later, Kate and her ex seem to have changed their tune: On Feb. 28, the former Black Crowes frontman filed papers in a Los Angeles court to “reevaluate” their custody agreement, seeking more time with his 13-year-old son. Now, a court-appointed expert is set to assess both Kate, 37, and Chris, 50, as parents, potentially considering everything from their psychological makeups to their professional lives, in order to decide what’s best for Ryder. And a source close to the situation says Kate is “terrified” that things might not go her way.

A CHANGE OF FORTUNES

Kate is “prepared to do whatever the court asks,” the source says, “including undergoing drug and alcohol testing,” in order to fight

Chris’ request. (She’s also footing the $7,500 bill for the evaluation.)

But the picture has certainly changed from how it looked 10 years ago, when Ryder was still practically a baby, and Chris was constantly on the road with his band. (He still tours occasionally with a new band but mostly stays close to home in Marin County, Calif., where he moved from L.A. in 2015.) “Kate’s a great mother,” the source says, “both to Ryder and to Bingham [her 5-year-old son with Muse singer Matthew Bellamy, whom she dated from 2010 to 2014]. But she’s not exactly a stay-at-home mom. She’s trying to reboot her acting career, she’s dating a lot and she’s out all the time. These days, it seems like she’ll go to the opening of an envelope!”

Meanwhile, Chris has a “stable home life,” the source says, with his wife, Allison Bridges, whom he wed in 2009, and his young daughter. “It’s understandable that he might wonder who’s looking after Ryder when Kate’s not there.” The source concludes that the case could get tricky: “Chris is a good guy, and he truly has his son’s best interests at heart. But so does Kate, of course. They can’t both win.”

KATE’S Band of Merry Men

WHO SHE’S BEEN LINKED TO SINCE ENDING HER ENGAGEMENT TO MATT BELLAMY IN 2014

DEREK HOUGH

Kate was caught smooching the 31-year-old DWTS pro in December 2014, just before she announced her split from Matt. (She and Derek dated again in May 2015.)

NICK JONAS

In February 2016, the 24-year-old former teen idol said that he and Kate had an “unbelievable connection.” Our thoughts exactly!

JJ WATT

Kate posted a snap of herself with NFL star JJ, 27, last April, but then quickly claimed they were only pals. “We just have the same agent,” she said. Uh-huh.

DIPLO

Kate hooked up with the 38-year-old producer (and Katy Perry ex) last summer, while both were in Ibiza. And on Oscar night, they were seen holding hands!

BRAD PITT

Since his split from Angelina Jolie, 53-year-old Brad has kept a low profile. Still, he hasn’t been able to shake rumors of a hush-hush romance with Kate.

TAKEOVER!

BINDI IRWIN'S BOYFRIEND, CHANDLER POWELL, IS POISED TO BECOME THE NEXT CROC HUNTER, AS THE PAIR JOIN FORCES TO UPHOLD HER DAD STEVE'S LEGACY

Beloved around the world for his spirit and passion for wildlife, Steve Irwin left huge shoes to fill after his tragic death in 2006. His 18-year-old daughter, Bindi, seems willing to try, embracing her role as global ambassador for the Australia Zoo, which Steve's parents founded in 1970. But she's not doing it all on her own: Sources say that her boyfriend of two years, American-born wakeboarding champ Chandler Powell, is the one who's really stepping up to the plate!

"Just like Steve, Chandler's not afraid to get his hands dirty," a zoo source says of the 20-year-old Florida native. "He's enthusiastic, always in the wildlife hospital, trying to learn all he can. He can't wait till he's able to handle the crocs by himself."

Zoo employees who've never quite taken to Bindi's mom Terri's management style seem thrilled at the prospect of a takeover by the next generation, the source reports. And Bindi and Chandler are excited, too. "When Terri's away, the property is like their love nest," says the source. "Bindi takes Chandler out to the croc ponds to teach him what her dad taught her." Adds the source: "Bindi is very spiritual, and she honestly believes Chandler is an angel sent by her dad. It's hard to disagree. He's practically Steve reincarnate — plus he worships the ground Bindi walks on! They're inseparable."

Sources say Chandler has been living in the Irwin family compound on the grounds of their zoo and studying in its four private croc enclosures.

On Valentine's Day, he promoted "romantic" zoo outings with this pic.

EVA'S

GREEN-EYED MONSTER?

Eva has two kids with Ryan... but a source says she fears his frequent costar Emma could steal him at any moment.

OSCARS SNUB

THE REAL REASON EVA MENDES WAS A NO-SHOW ON THE BIGGEST NIGHT OF BABY DADDY RYAN GOSLING'S CAREER

In January, when he won the Golden Globe for Best Actor in a Musical or Comedy for La La Land, Ryan Gosling thanked his absent partner, Eva Mendes, saying, essentially, that he couldn't have done it without her. But by the time Oscar night rolled around, a source says, the 36-year-old nominee really didn't want to do it without her; the day before, Feb. 25, he begged the 43-year-old actress turned (highly reclusive) mother to join him at the glitzy ceremony.

"She flat-out refused," the source says. "And when Ryan said that he needed her support, she shot back that he'd be fine, because he'd have Emma [Stone, his costar] there to support him! He was shocked by her jealous outburst."

It's easy to understand why Eva might feel threatened by Ryan's relationship with Emma, 28. Over the course of three successful films, beginning with Crazy, Stupid, Love in 2011, the pair have developed a rapport that fans find irresistible. Factor in that newly minted Oscar winner Emma is younger and doing better in her career than Eva ever has, and, well, it's a recipe for trouble. "They're exact opposites, basically," the source says. "Emma's so open and outgoing, unlike Eva."

But the source insists Ryan only has eyes for Eva, the mother of his two children, even if he's tiring of her refusal to leave the house. "It's absurd," the source says. "She wants him to prove she comes first, but she won't do the same for him on his biggest night!"

BIGG ONST BREAKD

Mariah Carey

The star started 2017 with a bang — and not a good one. Mimi's live, televised New Year's Eve performance was a mess: She balked at singing, blaming a faulty earpiece before giving up and wandering around the stage.

Billie Joe Armstrong

The Green Day frontman lost it at the 2012 iHeartRadio festival when he saw a clock counting down his performance time. He cursed out organizers from the stage... and checked into rehab two days later.

Ryan Adams

The singer does not take Bryan Adams jokes lightly. When someone heckled him to perform "Summer of '69" during a 2002 show, Ryan had the house lights turned on and kicked the fan out of the venue. Still scarred, he wrote a New York Times story about it last month.

Chris Brown

During his Michael Jackson tribute at the 2010 BET awards, one song hit a little too close to home. As "Man in the Mirror" began to play, the singer's voice cracked and he crumbled to the floor.

The pop star brought himself to tears during his 2015 return to the VMAs. Overcome with emotion after finishing his high-energy number, the Biebs bent over and began sobbing.

Ashlee Simpson

In 2004, Ashlee made SNL history with her lip-sync debacle. Starting her second song of the night, the backing track for her first one started to play. Flustered, she did a bizarre jig before bolting off stage.

Britney Spears

Don't call it a comeback. Brit's opening number at the 2007 MTV VMAs was supposed to be her triumphant return, but instead she appeared sedated, stumbling on stage to her hit "Gimme More."

John Mayer

The singer offered a public mea culpa during a 2010 concert, shortly after a controversial Playboy interview where he used racial slurs. "I completely forgot about the people that I love and that love me," he wept to the crowd.

SWAPPING INDIES FOR ACTION, THE ACTRESS DISCOVERED WHAT IT TAKES TO BE A MODERN WOMAN CONFRONTING KING KONG

One year after scooping up every major award possible for Room, Brie Larson returns in a very different kind of movie — a new take, set in 1973, on the classic beauty and the beast tale that's thrilled generations of fans. But Mason, her character in Kong: Skull Island, is not the usual damsel in distress; she's a war photographer who's "fearless and totally willing to put her life on the line," says Brie, 27.

INTO THE WILD
Brie drew on role models as varied as Jane Goodall and Gloria Steinem to play a character both feminine and strong in Kong: Skull Island.

s Ape!

She talks about adding to the weighty legend of King Kong.

Does Mason, your character, have a special connection with the giant ape, as in other Kong films?

Yeah. It's hard to describe, because you want to say they have an intimate relationship. I am the only one who makes a conscious decision not to carry a weapon; I'm the one who's willing to work with this very smart animal, and his sixth sense picks up on that. That's why he and Mason are drawn together.

Did you fight to get this role?

I mean, I auditioned for it. I'm not really a fighter as a human being.

How can you make it in Hollywood if you're not a fighter?

You just love [projects]. And when you love them and they're meant to be yours, they usually come back. That doesn't mean you're passive about it. But you can't force a creative relationship to happen.

What sort of training did you do?

A lot! I worked with a trainer for two hours a day. The hardest Pilates class ever was one hour,

LOVE IN BLOOM
Brie thanked musician Alex Greenwald (now her fiancé) at every awards show last year.

and the second was a lot of weights.

Is it harder to take on such a physical role, versus one that's emotional, like in Room?

It's just a totally different muscle. This was much harder on my body — I felt constantly beat up from carrying a lot of stuff, or running or marching. But in some ways it's easier because it's a lot of imagination, like playing when you were a kid. It's very different from a more cerebral movie, where there's so much pain and emotional drive.

The original King Kong was dark and gloomy. Is yours more fun?

I make jokes throughout the whole movie, so if they land, it should have some humor. You can't take movies like this too seriously; you have a giant ape, and at a certain point, we have to crack a joke about the ridiculousness of it.

Why do we like monster movies?

Monsters remind me of being a kid, and I think a huge part of why we enjoy going to the movies is that it takes us back to the hopes and fears of being a child again. It's a great chance to depart from the world we know.

How do A-listers get hitched away from prying eyes? Well, when they're Justin and Jess, they take over an entire 192-room hotel for a weeklong fête. Their $6.5 million 2012 wedding at Italy's Borgo Egnazia resort was so hush-hush, the 100 guests — including Jimmy Fallon and Timbaland — weren't even told where they were going, until they boarded a private plane in New York.

Prince William & Kate Middleton

The Duke and Duchess of Cambridge's 2011 celebration cost a whopping $34 million. Will and Kate dropped $800,000 on flowers, $150,000 on food and $60,000 on champagne, while the bulk of the budget — approximately $32 million — was spent on security and crowd control. A small price to pay, considering the royal family brings in some $700 million a year in tourism revenue. Hear, hear!

Sure, Kim and Kanye's nuptials cost a whopping $12 million, but at least the Wests are still together. Kim's $10 million, 2011 wedding to pro basketballer Kris was money down the drain, considering the union lasted only 72 days. "I'm going to remember how perfect it was," Kris said of the event. Good, because memories were just about all he got!

While their $4 million, 2015 Palm Beach, Fla., affair was dazzling, with nearly $1 million spent on flowers and décor, and musical performances by Marc Anthony and Gloria Estefan, the couple didn't seek to recoup expenses through gifts. Instead, they asked guests to donate to their favorite charities, St. Jude Children's Hospital and Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh. Now that's class!

Scent = of a = Woman

Angelina Jolie's beauty and compassion move millions the world over, so it's only fitting that she's inspired a perfumer's nose. The actress and director was the muse for Guerlain's Mon Guerlain, a sophisticated blend of vanilla, lavender and sandalwood hitting stores this month. Look out for the commercial featuring the star, who, of course, donated her paycheck from the campaign to charity.

BLAKE JENSEN

ASPCA®

Shown larger than approximate

Cats are gifts from Heaven above!

Loved for their playful spirit, warm cuddles and tender devotion, a cat is more than just a pet — it's part of our family. Now, in an exclusive Hamilton figurine debut, artist Blake Jensen cradles our furry friends in an angel's wings ... to protect them here on Earth ... and to keep them in our hearts even after they've gone.

Handcrafted with a heavenly sparkle.

Working from Blake's original sketches, artisans craft and paint "Cats Leave Paw Prints On Our Hearts" entirely by hand. And while holding this sweetly slumbering kitty in a gentle heart shape, the glittery, etched "feather" angel wings sparkle as bright as your love for your pet!

Money -back guarantee!

This figurine has been exclusively commissioned by The Hamilton Collection in its efforts to show its support of the ASPCA's mission. Each limited edition is hand-numbered and includes a Certificate of Authenticity. Satisfaction is guaranteed or your money back. Celebrate your "four-legged blessing" and reply now!

5 MINUTES WITH SUKI WATERHOUSE

THE MODEL GAVE OK! THE SCOOP ON HER SPRING STYLE

As the face of e-tailer Shopbop's newest campaign, Find Your Spring, Suki posed in looks from the season's top trends, including dreamy pink shades, all-day lingerie and romantic accents such as ruffles and dramatic florals.

How would you describe your personal style aesthetic?

I dress for whatever character I need to play in the world day to day. I love packing for trips and creating looks for new adventures.

What spring trend are you most looking forward to rocking?

Track suits tailored to wear as suit trousers.

What are your current style obsessions?

Recently, I've been wearing a lot of floaty shirts and polka-dot waistcoats with loose suit trousers — and a fanny pack!

How do you feel about this all-pink look [below]?

I love wearing pink everything! There is so much power in it, and I love how girls are taking the color and all its feminine connotations and wearing it proudly and powerfully.

Which fashion rules are meant to be broken?

Don't follow style rules or guides or copy whatever your friends are wearing. And, you don't have to feel categorized by your age, gender or culture.

Check out all of Suki's apparel and Shopbop's top six spring trends at shopbop.com

A So Truly Real® treasure, as precious as can be

All little babies have nicknames, born of our love for the personalities that make them so unique. You started calling your new baby daughter Little Squirt when she was a few days old and now everyone does because it suits her perfectly. And when she wears this sleeper with a wee tiny whale and his spout on the front ... well, the oohs and ahhs just keeping coming!

Little Squirt by Master Artist Violet Parker is 17 inches long from head to toe. She's So Truly Real® from her RealTouch® vinyl skin to her baby-soft hair, button nose and chubby cheeks. She's warm and cozy in a soft pink sleeper with white cuffs and neckline. You'll smile at the whale applique inspired by her precious nickname ... and the matching polka-dotted bow on her cap.

A remarkable value—for a limited time!

Violet Parker's original dolls can sell for thousands of dollars, but Little Squirt can be yours for just $129.99*, payable in five installments of $25.99, backed by our 365-day guarantee. Hurry before she's gone: order today!

MOVIE PREVIEW

BEAUTY AND THE BEAST

Emma Watson, Luke Evans, Dan Stevens
PG | March 17

In this live-action remake of the tale as old as time, Belle (Emma Watson) takes her father's place as a prisoner in a castle that's home to a cursed prince turned Beast (Dan Stevens). She embraces her surroundings, however, befriend the magical staff (such as talking candelabra Lumiere) and soon learns to see the kind man behind the Beast's intimidating exterior — a lesson that could revive the prince in human form.

Though pompous villager Gaston (Luke Evans) tries to win over Belle, her father (Kevin Kline, inset) is the No. 1 man in her life.

TV PREVIEW

THE TWINS: HAPPILY EVER AFTER?

Mon., March 20, at 9 PM ET on Freeform

Every season of The Bachelor has a standout contestant — but on Ben Higgins' season, there were two: spunky twins Emily and Haley Ferguson. After failing to find love on Bachelor in Paradise, the duo are now front and center in their own spin-off show. Realizing it's time to start the next chapter of their lives, the bubbly Las Vegas natives move out of their mom's house and embrace adulthood as they meet new guys, make decisions about their careers and each search for their own independence.

AMIRAH VANN STAR OF UNDERGROUND

In the first season of Underground, a fast-paced drama that follows a group of slaves who are determined to find their freedom, mother-of-three Ernestine, played by Amirah Vann, stayed behind — only to be sold off to another plantation in the finale. Now away from her family and everything she knows, Ernestine has "new challenges to face," Amirah shares. The actress dishes on her role and the new season.

What was your reaction when you were promoted to a series regular for season 2?

I was thrilled. I care so much about the way we're telling this story, in a way that honors this country and all those who helped build it. It's an honor.

Catch Underground on Wednesdays at 10 PM ET on WGN America.

This season, Ernestine is separated from her kids. How does she handle that?

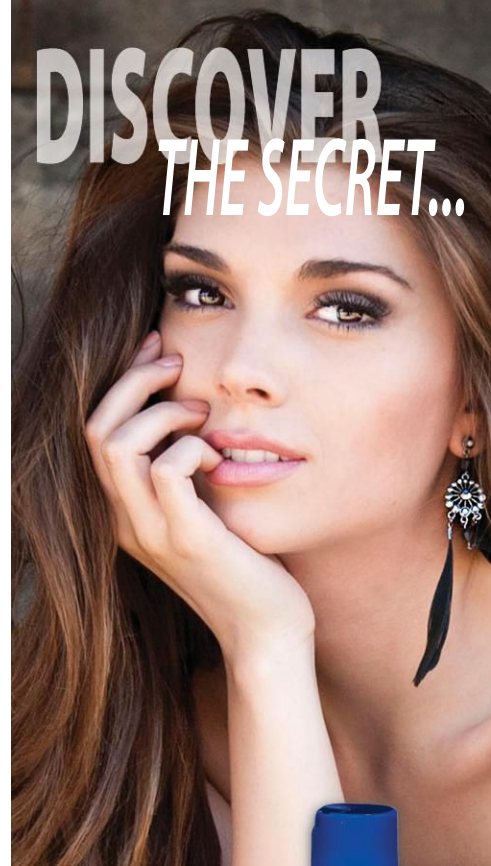

It's a daily torment. She's always identified herself as a mother, so now we get to find out who she is as a woman. We'll see if she has that inner strength to survive now that the one thing she lives for has been taken away.

Some characters are based on real people, such as Harriet Tubman. Is it more difficult to play someone like Ernestine, who isn't?

The thing is, she lived in truth for me. We're honoring people who paved the way, so it's very real in my mind. It's a fictional narrative, but she existed. I'm still celebrating the women of our past.

This Simple Skin Fix May Surprise You

Skincare experts have discovered the root cause of 93% of all skin problems – and it's not what you think.

It occurs deep underneath the skin, where it often goes unnoticed.

If you experience dry skin, redness, rashes, pimples, or age spots, chances are you may already be affecting.

More than 50 million Americans suffer from unsightly skin problems, and many of them don't even know it, because the damage is so deep under the skin.

Many believe that these skin issues are just genetics or normal signs of age, but this may not be the case.

Fortunately, there is a newly discovered technique that could actually RESTORE your youthful appearance. And best of all, this method can be done right at home in less than two minutes!

Go to www.SkinFix3.com to find out this simple skin fix and how to get rid of any skin problems you have or may not even know you have.

P.S. Even if your skin looks clear on the outside, the damage could already be starting on your "inner skin." It's important to watch the shocking presentation now to fix your inner skin problems before it gets worse! Watch now at www.SkinFix3.com
