FANS WERE APPALLED TO
SEE SCOTT
DISICK
STEPPING OUT
ON BABY MAMA
KOURTNEY KARDASHIAN
YET AGAIN —
BUT A SOURCE
SAYS IT'S ALL
FOR SHOW

Is Scott Disick up to no good again? Just days after he joined baby mama Kourtney, 37, and his kids Mason, 7, Penelope, 4, and Reign, 2, in Costa Rica for a vacation with the entire Kardashian clan, the family lightning rod ditched them all to canoodle with two sexy models in as many days at Miami's Setai hotel pool. But insiders are calling his bluff. "Don't be fooled — this was a carefully crafted move," says a source. "Scott's main job is to create drama for Keeping Up With the Kardashians, and viewers always tune in when he has a blowout with Kourtney and falls back into the party scene." The source claims that Scott was actually the one who notified photographers about his poolside romps — in advance, of course. "It's all for the show," says the insider, who explains that as KUWTK ratings continue to dip, the family is "trying every trick in the book to recapture their audience. If that means Scott and Kourtney plunging themselves into orchestrated chaos after months of stability and sweet family outings, so be it. They honestly don't care as long as it brings in cash." The staged indignities are "not always easy for Kourt to handle," the source notes, "but you'll notice Scott's never photographed actually kissing another woman. The whole family loves that he knows how to liven up the show. It's kind of sick, but that's the Kardashians!" OK!

Scott pretends not to notice the camera while cozying up to a petite blonde on Jan. 31.

THE LATEST CELEB NEWS

INSIDER

An insider says Bethenny has endured years of Jason's manipulation and verbal abuse, and "she won't take it anymore."

BETHENNY'S STALKING HORROR

Reality star Bethenny Frankel excels at manufactured drama, but lately she's been dealing with real-life chaos. The Skinnygirl mogul is still on contentious terms with ex-husband Jason Hoppy — despite emerging from a bitter divorce war last July — leading to an explosive incident at the New York City school of their 6-year-old daughter, Bryn.

Following what they say were months of relentless texts, emails and calls from Jason, 46, Bethenny and her boyfriend, banker Dennis Shields, had attorneys send him a cease and desist letter in November. But the move only further enraged Jason. On Jan. 27, he confronted Bethenny, 46, at morning drop-off outside Bryn's school, unleashing, she says, a series of venomous threats, including a promise to "destroy" her. (Jason disputes her allegations.)

"Bethenny was disturbed," says an insider. "She went straight to the NYPD." Hours later, Jason was arrested and charged with harassment and stalking. The resulting injunction — which forbids Jason from contacting Bethenny or showing up at her apartment or business — is another hit for the ex-couple, who spent twice as long slinging mud in court as they did being married. "This situation is only getting worse," says a source. "Jason has clearly lost all sense of reason."

A full-page photograph of Johnny Depp as Detective William Soke from the movie Labyrinth. He is wearing a white dress shirt, a blue tie, and a dark blue police vest with a badge. He has a mustache and is looking off to the side with a serious expression.

"Johnny's bloated from boozing," says a source.

Johnny Depp is a Hollywood heavyweight — in more ways than one. The actor, still recovering from his nasty divorce from Amber Heard, has gotten so pudgy that sources say he's reining in his gut with man-Spanx! At the People's Choice Awards on Jan. 18, his shapewear "was so tight he could barely breathe," an insider says, and on the set of Labyrinth, in which he plays a detective investigating the murders of Tupac Shakur and the Notorious B.I.G., he wears both Spanx and a stiff Kevlar vest to conceal his paunch. "Wardrobe was told to put Johnny in the vest as often as possible," says the source. "It's uncomfortable, but he doesn't complain; it's better than having to lose weight" — or worse, give up his reported $30,000-a-month wine habit!

JOHNNY'S GUT CHECK

A photograph of Justin Bieber wearing a blue and red track jacket with "JBS" on the sleeve, a blue baseball cap, and holding a white phone. He is looking towards the camera.

Justin "looked like he wanted company," says a source.

JUSTIN'S LONELY NIGHT OUT

What, no entourage? Justin Bieber was all by his lonesome when he dropped by Barney's Beanery in L.A. on Jan. 28 to play pool (and perhaps to distract himself from ex Selena Gomez's Italian idyll with The Weeknd). After shooting solo for a bit, "he asked the guys at the next table if they'd join him," says an eyewitness. "They said they wanted to finish their game, but then they clocked who he was." The Biebs offered to pay for a game and bought his new buddies their drinks. "He left by 9 p.m.," says the source. "But he gave the barman cash and told him to take care of the guys for the rest of the night. The tab was about $300 — that's one pricey game of pool!"

The actress (looking disheveled last April) has been plagued by years of instability.

MISCHA'S BIZARRE BREAKDOWN

It was the stuff of nightmares, but it played out on a sunny California morning. At around 7:15 a.m. on Jan. 26, police responded to calls about a disturbance at Mischa Barton's West Hollywood apartment, where video leaked later showed the actress hanging over a fence, screaming about being a "conduit" for some "angry" unseen force and calling her mother a "witch." She voluntarily went to the hospital, where, she said, she was told she'd been slipped the date-rape drug GHB. (She was out drinking with friends the night before to celebrate her 31st birthday, and she's now urging young women to be more aware of their surroundings.) It wasn't the first alarming incident for the once-promising star of The O.C., who underwent psychiatric evaluation in 2009 for what she's called "a full-on breakdown," after years of hard partying. She's also had financial woes and a troubled relationship with her mother and former manager, Nuala. On Jan. 31, she tweeted thanks to her fans, saying, "We shall overcome." Let's hope so.

"Connor and Bella have asked Nicole to leave them out of her public life," says a source.

NICOLE'S KIDS: QUIT USING US!

She's called her film Lion "a love letter to my children," but Nicole Kidman's older kids wish she'd leave them out of it. A source says Bella, 24, and Connor, 22 — whom she adopted with her ex Tom Cruise — resent her bringing them up in her many interviews about playing an Australian woman who adopts an Indian boy in the Oscar-bait drama. "Connor and Bella live out of the spotlight," says the insider, "and they don't appreciate being used as props. It's especially galling because her relationship with them has been fraught since she and Tom broke up [in 2001]. They're Scientologists like their dad, and they've always been closer with him." Though Nicole, who also has two biological daughters with Keith Urban, had been trying to strengthen their bond, her recent comments "have ripped open old wounds," says the insider. "They're ready to cut her off if she doesn't honor their wishes."

ARMIE'S SECRET STASH

Hitting Sundance to promote his film Call Me by Your Name, Armie Hammer brought his own Rocky Mountain high with him! A source at the festival says the actor — who was arrested in Texas in 2012 for possession of pot (the case was dropped because the amount was reportedly so small) — was loving the fact that his sling, the aftermath of surgery for a torn pectoral muscle, is also a handy place to hide joints. "It's a lot bigger than a pocket, and unless he bends over, he doesn't have to worry about anything falling out," explains the insider. "He keeps his lighter in there too — he even gave a demonstration at one point!" Smoke 'em if you got 'em, Armie.

Armie was in great spirits, says a source, and it wasn't just his movie's rave reviews.

The quirky star doesn't subscribe to "waste not, want not."

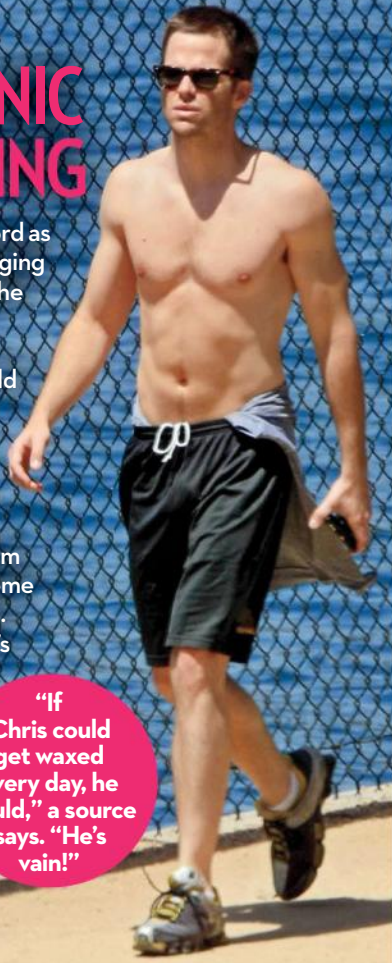

KEANU'S WASTEFUL WINE HABIT

Keanu Reeves has a taste for the finer things in life — like the kind of wine that doesn't come by the glass. At a recent Sundance event, our spy says, he asked for a $1,000 bottle of vino, stressing that he'd pay for it at the otherwise free bar. But after one serving, he returned the rest! And not because it failed to impress: An insider on the set of the John Wick sequel says he often ordered a pricey red at group dinners, and "if no one else was drinking, he'd have one glass and leave the bottle, telling the staff they were welcome to it. He always tipped accordingly." To that we say, cheers!

CHRIS' MANIC MANSCAPING

Chris Pine may be on record as saying he's "enjoying the aging process," but sources on the set of his new movie, A Wrinkle in Time, beg to differ. While the 36-year-old doesn't seem bothered by salt and pepper in his hair and beard (hey, it hasn't hurt George Clooney!), seeing stray grays on his body freaks him out — and he's taking extreme measures to remove them. "Chris has a groomer who's constantly waxing him," says an insider. "She's pretty much on call day and night. Right now it's just his chest and back, but nobody would be surprised if he does his legs as well. It's crazy!"

"If Chris could get waxed every day, he would," a source says. "He's vain!"

She spent most of her pretransition life feeling like an outsider. Now, sources say, Caitlyn Jenner wants to work for change as a political insider. The outspoken Republican got a heroine's welcome over inauguration weekend in Washington, D.C., where she attended the Liberty Ball as a guest of the American Unity Fund, a conservative nonprofit dedicated to LGBTQ causes. "People were falling all over themselves to get a picture with Caitlyn, and she worked the crowd like a natural politician," says a friend. "Back home, she started talking about running for the California State Senate. She's already changed people's perceptions, and she thinks she can accomplish a lot more in office."

CAITLYN SENATOR JENNER?

"Republicans need help understanding LGBTQ issues and I'm here to help!" Caitlyn tweeted on Jan. 18.

WHAT IS PARAGARD?

PARAGARD is a copper-releasing device that is placed in your uterus to prevent pregnancy for up to 10 years.

IMPORTANT SAFETY INFORMATION

Do not use PARAGARD if you have a pelvic infection, get infections easily or have certain cancers. Less than 1% of users get a serious infection called pelvic inflammatory disease. If you have persistent pelvic or stomach pain, or if PARAGARD comes out, tell your healthcare professional. If it comes out, use back-up birth control. Occasionally, PARAGARD may attach to or in rare cases may go through the uterine wall and may also cause other problems. In some cases, surgical removal may be necessary. Although uncommon, pregnancy while using PARAGARD can be life threatening and may result in loss of pregnancy or fertility. Bleeding or spotting may increase at first but should decrease in 2 to 3 months. PARAGARD does not protect against HIV/AIDS or sexually transmitted diseases (STDs).

Available by prescription only.

You are encouraged to report negative side effects of prescription drugs to the FDA at www.fda.gov/medwatch or call 1-800-FDA-1088.

BRIEF SUMMARY

ParaGard® T380A Intrauterine Copper Contraceptive

This brief summary does not take the place of talking to your doctor about your medical condition or your treatment.

ParaGard® T 380A Intrauterine Copper Contraceptive is used to prevent pregnancy. It does not protect against HIV infection (AIDS) and other sexually transmitted diseases.

What is ParaGard®?

ParaGard® (intrauterine copper contraceptive) is a copper-releasing device that is placed in your uterus to prevent pregnancy for up to 10 years. ParaGard® is made of white plastic in the shape of a "T." Copper is wrapped around the stem and arms of the "T". Two white threads are attached to the stem of the "T". The threads are the only part of ParaGard® that you can feel when ParaGard® is in your uterus. ParaGard® and its components do not contain latex.

How long can I keep ParaGard® in place?

You can keep ParaGard® in your uterus for up to 10 years. After 10 years, you should have ParaGard® removed by your healthcare provider. If you wish and if it is still right for you, you may get a new ParaGard® during the same visit.

What if I change my mind and want to become pregnant?

Your healthcare provider can remove ParaGard® at any time. After discontinuation of ParaGard®, its contraceptive effect is reversed.

How does ParaGard® work?

Ideas about how ParaGard® works include preventing sperm from reaching the egg, preventing sperm from fertilizing the egg, and possibly preventing the egg from attaching (implanting) in the uterus. ParaGard® does not stop your ovaries from making an egg (ovulating) each month.

How well does ParaGard® work?

Fewer than 1 in 100 women become pregnant each year while using ParaGard®.

Who should not use ParaGard®?

You should not use ParaGard® if you

- Might be pregnant
- Have a uterus that is abnormally shaped inside
- Have a pelvic infection called pelvic inflammatory disease (PID) or have current behavior that puts you at high risk of PID (for example, because you are having sex with several men, or your partner is having sex with other women)
- Have had an infection in your uterus after a pregnancy or abortion in the past 3 months
- Have cancer of the uterus or cervix
- Have unexplained bleeding from your vagina
- Have an infection in your cervix
- Have Wilson's disease (a disorder in how the body handles copper)
- Are allergic to anything in ParaGard®
- Already have an intrauterine contraceptive in your uterus

How is ParaGard® placed in the uterus?

ParaGard® is placed in your uterus during an office visit. Your healthcare provider first examines you to find the position of your uterus. Next, he or she will cleanse your vagina and cervix, measure your uterus, and then slide a plastic tube containing ParaGard® into your uterus. The tube is removed, leaving ParaGard® inside your uterus. Two white threads extend into your vagina. The threads are trimmed so they are just long enough for you to feel with your fingers when doing a self-check. As ParaGard® goes in, you may feel cramping or pinching. Some women feel faint, nauseated, or dizzy for a few minutes afterwards. Your healthcare provider may ask you to lie down for a while and to get up slowly.

How do I check that ParaGard® is in my uterus?

Visit your healthcare provider for a check-up about one month after placement to make sure ParaGard® is still in your uterus.

You can also check to make sure that ParaGard® is still in your uterus by reaching up to the top of your vagina with clean fingers to feel the two threads. Do not pull on the threads.

If you cannot feel the threads, ask your healthcare provider to check if ParaGard® is in the right place. If you can feel more of ParaGard® than just the threads, ParaGard® is not in the right place. If you can't see your healthcare provider right away, use an additional birth control method. If ParaGard® is in the wrong place, your chances of getting pregnant are increased. It is a good habit for you to check that ParaGard® is in place once a month.

You may use tampons when you are using ParaGard®.

ParaGard® T 380A Intrauterine Copper Contraceptive

What if I become pregnant while using ParaGard®?

If you think you are pregnant, contact your healthcare professional right away. If you are pregnant and ParaGard® is in your uterus, you may get a severe infection or shock, have a miscarriage or premature labor and delivery, or even die. Because of these risks, your healthcare provider will recommend that you have ParaGard® removed, even though removal may cause miscarriage.

If you continue a pregnancy with ParaGard® in place, see your healthcare provider regularly. Contact your healthcare provider right away if you get fever, chills, cramping, pain, bleeding, flu-like symptoms, or an unusual, bad smelling vaginal discharge.

A pregnancy with ParaGard® in place has a greater than usual chance of being ectopic (outside your uterus). Ectopic pregnancy is an emergency that may require surgery. An ectopic pregnancy can cause internal bleeding, infertility, and death. Unusual vaginal bleeding or abdominal pain may be signs of an ectopic pregnancy.

Copper in ParaGard® does not seem to cause birth defects.

What side effects can I expect with ParaGard®?

The most common side effects of ParaGard® are heavier, longer periods and spotting between periods; most of these side effects diminish after 2-3 months. However, if your menstrual flow continues to be heavy or long, or spotting continues, contact your healthcare provider.

Infrequently, serious side effects may occur:

- Pelvic inflammatory disease (PID): Uncommonly, ParaGard® and other IUDs are associated with PID. PID is an infection of the uterus, tubes, and nearby organs. PID is most likely to occur in the first 20 days after placement. You have a higher chance of getting PID if you or your partner have sex with more than one person. PID is treated with antibiotics. However, PID can cause serious problems such as infertility, ectopic pregnancy, and chronic pelvic pain. Rarely, PID may even cause death. More serious cases of PID require surgery or a hysterectomy (removal of the uterus). Contact your healthcare provider right away if you have any of the signs of PID: abdominal or pelvic pain, painful sex, unusual or bad smelling vaginal discharge, chills, heavy bleeding, or fever.
- Difficult removals: Occasionally ParaGard® may be hard to remove because it is stuck in the uterus. Surgery may sometimes be needed to remove ParaGard®.
- Perforation: Rarely, ParaGard® goes through the wall of the uterus, especially during placement. This is called perforation. If ParaGard® perforates the uterus, it should be removed. Surgery may be needed. Perforation can cause infection, scarring, or damage to other organs. If ParaGard® perforates the uterus, you are not protected from pregnancy.
- Expulsion: ParaGard® may partially or completely fall out of the uterus. This is called expulsion. Women who have never been pregnant may be more likely to expel ParaGard® than women who have been pregnant before. If you think that ParaGard® has partly or completely fallen out, use an additional birth control method, such as a condom and call your healthcare provider.

You may have other side effects with ParaGard®. For example, you may have anemia (low blood count), backache, pain during sex, menstrual cramps, allergic reaction, vaginal infection, vaginal discharge, faintness, or pain. This is not a complete list of possible side effects. If you have questions about a side effect, check with your healthcare provider.

When should I call my healthcare provider?

Call your healthcare provider if you have any concerns about ParaGard®. Be sure to call if you:

- Think you are pregnant
- Have pelvic pain or pain during sex
- Have unusual vaginal discharge or genital sores
- Have unexplained fever
- Might be exposed to sexually transmitted diseases (STDs)
- Cannot feel ParaGard®'s threads or can feel the threads are much longer
- Can feel any other part of the ParaGard® besides the threads
- Become HIV positive or your partner becomes HIV positive
- Have severe or prolonged vaginal bleeding
- Miss a menstrual period

QUAD WEBB-LUNCEFORD'S

LOBSTER MAC & CHEESE

The breakout star of Bravo's Married to Medicine, Quad Webb-Lunceford is much more than a doctor's wife. The animal lover and lifestyle expert (who also has a degree in biology, with a minor in chemistry) is practically a pro in the kitchen — in fact, she shares her recipes and tips in a weekly #CookingWithQuad tutorial on Instagram. For a taste of what's on offer, try her indulgent mac and cheese, doctored up with lobster. "I love this dish because it's a spin on traditional mac and cheese," says Quad. "The addition of the lobster makes it a complete and luxurious meal versus a side item. It's rich and filling — one of my husband's favorites!"

SERVES:

2-4

TOTAL TIME: 45 MIN.

SKILL LEVEL

Ingredients

- 8 oz. elbow macaroni
- 8 oz. shredded sharp cheddar cheese
- 6 oz. freshly grated Parmesan cheese
- 4 oz. cream cheese
- 4 oz. shredded Gruyère
- 16 oz. heavy cream
- 1 tbsp. olive oil
- 1 shallot, minced
- 2 garlic cloves, minced
- 1 lb. lobster meat, chopped
- 1 dash salt
- 1 dash pepper

Directions:

1. Bring salted water to a boil and add macaroni. Cook 8-10 minutes (do not overcook).
2. Meanwhile, in a double boiler, combine cheddar cheese, 4 oz. of the Parmesan cheese, the cream cheese and Gruyère cheese. Heat until blended. Gradually add cream, stirring until smooth.
3. Heat olive oil in a large pan.

Add shallots and garlic, and sauté. Add lobster meat and cook until opaque. Remove from heat.

4. Drain pasta. Add pasta to lobster mix, then pour in cheese sauce. Add salt and pepper. Mix well.

5. Place macaroni mixture in casserole dish. Sprinkle with remaining Parmesan cheese. Bake at 350° for 6-8 minutes. Serve hot.

COUPLES NEWS

Two of the luckiest babies alive are officially in utero! Beyoncé thrilled her 93 million Instagram followers — and nearly broke the Internet — with her Feb. 1 post announcing that she and hubby Jay Z are expecting twins! The, er, highly stylized image, right, quickly became the most-liked photo ever on Instagram; additional belly-baring outtakes from the trippy shoot (nude Bey in a garden, Bey under water, etc.) were posted to her website the next day, all captioned: “I have three hearts.”

According to a friend of the couple, Bey and Jay had been trying since late 2012 to conceive a sibling for 5-year-old daughter Blue Ivy. “They tried everything, from New Age-y stuff like acupuncture and cupping to, eventually, IVF,” the source claims. “Between that and their marital problems, she was under a ton of stress.”

But clearly, the struggle was worth it. The pal suspects the couple conceived in October, after Bey’s six-month Formation tour ended, putting her due date sometime in June. “Last year was crazy for them,” says the source. “Her album was a massive success; she and Jay fought through a lot of their issues; and now this news caps it off. Beyoncé says these babies are saving her marriage.”

Beyoncé’s Lemonade is up for nine Grammys — but first things first: The superstar’s family “will be growing by two,” she revealed on Instagram.

FAMILIAL BLISS

“We would like to share our love and happiness,” Beyoncé wrote on behalf of herself, Jay and Blue Ivy.

PREGNANT WITH TWINS!

"Justin wants Silas to have a sibling sooner rather than later," says a source. "But the timing isn't right for Jessica."

Justin & Jessica's

BABY BATTLE

After having son Silas in 2015, Jessica Biel took a step back from her career to focus on mommyhood. But now that the little boy is almost 2, a friend of Jessica's says that the actress, 34, is ready to get back to business. The only problem: Her husband, Justin Timberlake, is ready for baby No. 2! "Jess is thrilled that Justin's riding a career high," explains the friend, noting 36-year-old JT's recent Oscar nomination, his first, for his smash hit "Can't Stop the Feeling!" off of the Trolls soundtrack (he also voiced a character in the movie). "But Jess is ready for her turn now. She knows that in show business, the older she gets, the harder it'll be to land roles, so it's now or never. She does want a second child but not for another few years." Maybe Justin should work on some new love songs to change her mind!

Olivia & Aaron ENGAGED?

Over the last few months, NFL star Aaron Rodgers and girlfriend Olivia Munn have made headlines for all the wrong reasons — namely, that she's the root cause of the 33-year-old Green Bay Packers QB's estrangement from his family. Now, it looks like that rift may become permanent, as the actress, 36, was spotted with a ring on that finger! While neither star has confirmed an engagement, Olivia hinted at the Rodgers' family drama via Instagram following Aaron's final game of the season, thanking fans for supporting him "through adversity on and off the field." Guess there'll be a lot more where that came from!

Olivia stepped out wearing a stunning sparkler on Jan. 28.

Gigi's FRIENDS HATE ZAYN

These days, Gigi Hadid and Zayn Malik have been engaging in plenty of pillow talk — because she has no one else to hang out with! While Gigi, 21, may be head over heels for her beau, her pals — including bestie Kendall Jenner and sister Bella — "can't stand" the British crooner, an insider says. "None of Gigi's friends enjoy being around Zayn. He's intensely moody and socially awkward." The singer, 24, has been open about his struggles with anxiety, but Gigi's friends think she cuts him too much slack for it. "Gigi understands that Zayn doesn't love going out, so they rarely do anymore," says the insider. "But even when she invites people over to their place, he makes things uncomfortable because he doesn't feel like entertaining." The result, the source says: "No one wants to spend time with them anymore."

"All of Gigi's relationships have been suffering because of Zayn," says an insider. "He's even come between Gigi and her family."

Chyna PUTS ROB ON DIAPER DUTY

Unlike many Hollywood moms, Blac Chyna hasn't hired much extra help to take care of 3-month-old Dream — mostly because she's turned fiancé Rob Kardashian into her full-time nanny! According to an insider, the model, 28, "has been boasting to pals that she hasn't changed a single diaper since she brought Dream home from the hospital." Instead, Chyna tells her man, 29, that it's his responsibility, since her number one focus is getting her body back. "Chyna spends more time working out than she does with Dream. Rob is the one who gets up in the middle of the night to give Dream a bottle and is always the one to calm her down if she's fussy," the insider tattles. "But Chyna got lucky — Rob is so in love with Dream that he doesn't even complain." Well, father knows best!

Parenting's no pain for Rob! The star documented Dream's visit to the doctor to get her first shot, gushing, "I love her so much."

"Petty fights are taking a toll on their relationship," a source explains.

Miley & Liam's WILD RIDE

Though Miley Cyrus and Liam Hemsworth were on cloud nine when they reconciled in late 2015, a source says that the shine has worn off — and now, the singer, 24, and her Aussie beau, 27, are spending more time bickering than anything else, whether it's over Miley's erratic behavior or their wedding plans. "Liam and Miley have been saying that they haven't set a date yet because they can't agree on a location, but in reality, their problems are bigger than that," the source reveals, citing Miley's partying and her subsequent moody hangovers as just a few causes of their frequent tiffs. "The truth is, it's been a roller coaster lately. Everyone thinks that's the real reason they're dragging their feet on the wedding."

ScarJo's AFFAIR OF THE HEART

After just two years of marriage, Scarlett Johansson, 32, and Romain Dauriac, 34, have called it quits — and a source claims that her close relationship with Rupert Sanders, 45, the director of her flick Ghost in the Shell, may have been the catalyst in the split. "Scarlett and Rupert filmed in New Zealand for six months and were basically attached at the hip," shares the source. "Even after they wrapped, they kept in touch." And though a romance didn't materialize then, the source says, "no one would be shocked if they get together now. They really have a connection with each other."

Rupert's 2012 affair with Kristen Stewart led to the demise of his own marriage — and of Kristen Stewart's romance with Rob Pattinson.

JAMIE

Their Untold LOVE STORY

THEY'VE BEEN TOGETHER FOR YEARS. NOW, THE DETAILS OF KATIE HOLMES AND JAMIE FOXX'S TOP-SECRET ROMANCE ARE FINALLY COMING OUT

THE NIGHT IT ALL BEGAN

Katie and Jamie had been friendly for ages — ever since he worked with her ex in 2004's Collateral. But at a charity event in 2013, they became something more.

Four years ago, Katie Holmes and Jamie Foxx really were what they pretend to be today: just friends. But the details of how they went from casual pals to an undercover couple have never been revealed... until now. For the first time, an insider is spilling all the secrets of how Jamie, 49, and Katie, 38, got together — and where their union is headed.

ALL THE RIGHT MOVES

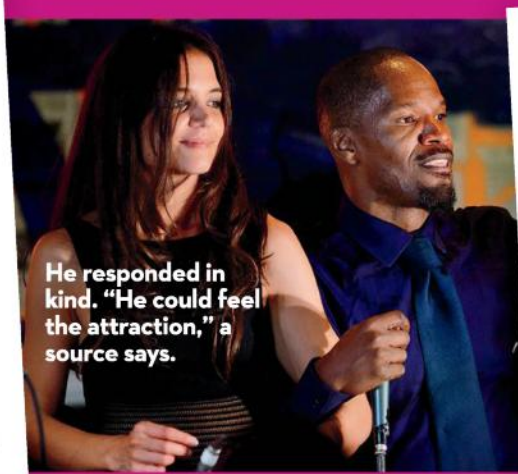

It all started with a run-in at the fourth annual “Apollo in the Hamptons” benefit in August 2013. Katie had divorced Tom Cruise a year before, and was thrilled to encounter her old friend, whom she hadn't seen since her days with Tom — and on whom, the insider says, she'd always harbored a little crush. She asked Jamie to dance, the source says, and took the lead on sending out flirtatious vibes. “She looked gorgeous as usual,” the insider says, “but Jamie saw a sexy side of her that he'd never noticed before.”

For the rest of the night, the source says, they were attached at the hip, sipping drinks and catching up. “Katie told Jamie that out of all Tom's friends, he'd always been her favorite,” the insider says. “And she teasingly asked why he never seemed to have a steady girlfriend. As the gala wound down, Katie said they should stay in touch and asked for his number.”

At a party in the Hamptons, Katie surprised Jamie by being hands-on.

He responded in kind. “He could feel the attraction,” a source says.

Who couldn't? She batted her eyes — and they worked up a sweat!

Keep It On the Down-Low

Jamie's daughter Corinne was 22 when her mother's identity finally leaked out. (Corinne posted this throwback pic of her mom in Nov. 2016.)

Katie isn't Jamie's first hush-hush romance: In fact, he's known in Hollywood for refusing to talk about his love life. For example, Connie Kline (far left), the mother of his older daughter, Corinne, wasn't outed until 2016! And despite the fact that the woman who bore his younger daughter, Annalise, was photographed several times while she and Jamie were still together (near right), her name is still unknown. As he told Oprah Winfrey in 2012, "I need somebody who's not thirsty for what I do. Whoever you date, don't let anybody know."

This woman, the mother of Jamie's 7-year-old daughter, Annalise, has never been publicly identified, despite dating him at the height of his fame.

While Jamie suspected that their flirty night would be as far as things would go, three weeks later, the insider says, he received a text: "Katie reached out because she was heading to L.A. In a second text, she wrote: 'Want to take me to dinner?'" At that point, the insider says, Jamie knew for sure that Katie was into him, "and that was all the sign he needed." He quickly arranged for dinner in a private room at the members-only Soho House in West Hollywood. There, overlooking the Hollywood Hills at sunset, "their real romance began," the insider says.

That's not to say it was smooth sailing from there. They knew they'd have to keep their involvement as quiet as possible, the insider says, thanks to a clause in Katie and Tom's divorce stating that she wouldn't date 'publicly' for five years. So they embarked on months of top-secret, bicoastal meet-ups. (Katie and Suri, 10, were still living in New York City at the time.) During the weeks in between, they talked and texted regularly, the insider says, and Jamie started lavishing Katie with flowers and sweet little gifts.

In September 2014, Katie and Suri moved to Calabasas, Calif., about 10 minutes away from Jamie's estate.

OUT OF THE SHADOWS

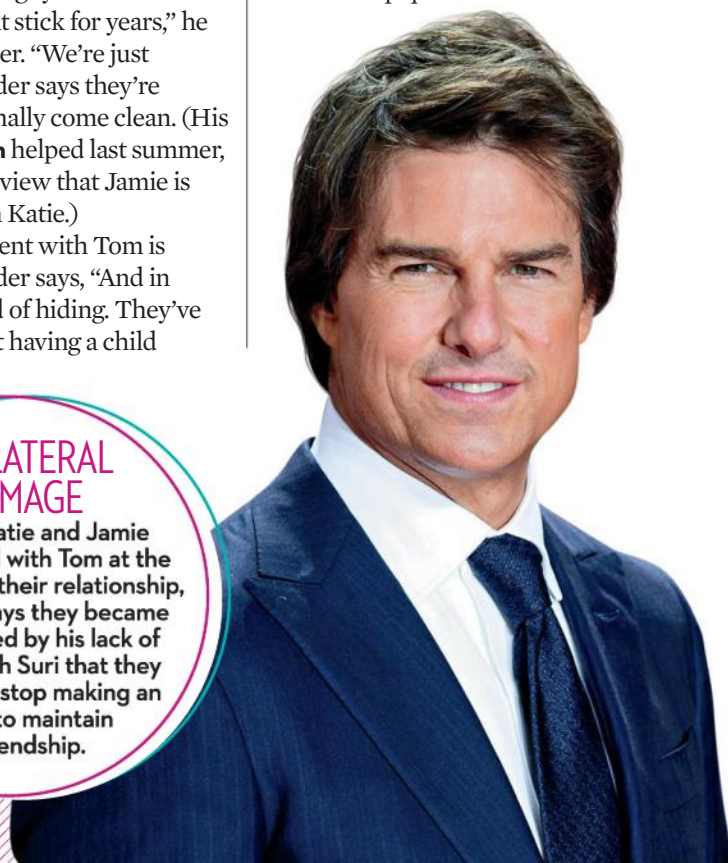

Can two of the most well-known people in the world date in secret forever? Probably not. And while Jamie was denying they were an item as recently as March 2015, after a blurry photograph of the pair holding hands in a recording studio was published ("Oh, come on, you guys have been trying to make that stick for years," he scoffed to a reporter. "We're just friends."), the insider says they're getting ready to finally come clean. (His pal Claudia Jordan helped last summer, spilling in an interview that Jamie is "very happy" with Katie.)

"Katie's agreement with Tom is expiring," the insider says, "And in truth, they're tired of hiding. They've been talking about having a child together — Suri keeps begging for a little sister — and obviously that's not something they could keep under wraps." The bottom line, the insider says, is that they're genuinely in love, and they just want to share it: "Katie says Jamie makes her feel like the happiest version of herself." Who'd want to keep quiet about that? OK!

COLLATERAL DAMAGE

Though Katie and Jamie were cordial with Tom at the beginning of their relationship, an insider says they became so frustrated by his lack of contact with Suri that they decided to stop making an effort to maintain a friendship.

IT'S

TWO YEARS AFTER THEIR
DIVORCE, PAULA PATTON DRAGS
ROBIN THICKE BACK INTO COURT

Paula Patton and Robin Thicke's 2014 split wasn't totally drama-free — remember when he dedicated an entire album to her in a misguided attempt to, as the lead single put it, “Get Her Back?” But once their divorce was finalized in March 2015 with minimum fuss, everyone assumed that was that.

Now, however, the gloves have come off: On Jan. 12, 41-year-old Paula requested an emergency custody hearing, accusing her 39-year-old ex of spanking their 6-year-old son, Julian, “excessively.” Then, on Jan. 25, she filed more court papers detailing shocking claims of rampant infidelity and drug use, as well as physical abuse.

Among her allegations: Robin had a cocaine problem so bad it prompted the couple's manager to quit in 2009 (the singer even went so far as to invite his drug dealer to Julian's 5th birthday party, Paula says); during a Valentine's Day getaway, he attempted to have sex with another woman in their hotel suite as

OLD LOVES

Robin and Paula began dating when he was just 14, and stayed together for years, even as both found (minor) fame.

2011

HAPPY TOGETHER

By 2011, they'd welcomed Julian, and seemed as happy as ever in this Halloween pic.

WAR!

Paula, Julian and a nanny were asleep in other rooms; upon his return from a tour in 2013, he confessed to having had unprotected sex with seven women; after an argument over his behavior with a masseuse, Robin pushed and kicked Paula; at the 2013 Cannes film festival, he hit her “with a closed fist to my upper body and then pushed me to the ground.”

THE FIGHT OF HIS LIFE

“This is a nightmare for Robin,” says a friend of the singer, who was already reeling from the sudden death of his father, the actor Alan Thicke, on Dec. 13. In his own declaration, in which he admitted only to lightly spanking Julian, Robin stated that Paula’s court filings are simply retaliation for having been barred from her former father-in-law’s funeral. For the time being, he’s been ordered to stay 100 yards away from Paula, who was granted temporary sole custody of Julian as of Jan. 26; but his pal says the battle is sure to rage on. “He’s going to fight these claims,” says the source, who notes that one of the couple’s nannies filed a declaration supporting Robin’s version of events.

“If Paula wants to go for the jugular, so will he. This is only going to get uglier.” OK!

(LAW)SUIT UP
Robin’s custody battle isn’t his only pending case: He’s also appealing a 2015 verdict that gave partial credit for his 2013 smash “Blurred Lines” to Marvin Gaye.

THE HOME COOK'S HERO

If you're married and your wedding took place anytime after 1998, there's a very good chance that someone gave you a copy of How to Cook Everything, Mark Bittman's groundbreaking first book — and that it is now splattered with all manner of kitchen grease, thanks to years of regular use. He followed up that home cook's bible with a vegetarian version in 2007 and a technique primer in 2014 (How to Cook Everything Fast), and now he's turned his attention to baking. With How to Bake Everything, Mark demystifies what's often seen as a fussy and exacting business, making pies, cakes and more (like apple crisp, right) seem as easy to prepare as a plate of scrambled eggs. He chatted with Judy Joo about how he became a cooking guru and his philosophy in the kitchen.

How'd you learn to cook "everything"?

I grew up in Manhattan in the '50s and '60s, and it was a food place like no other, in large part because of the U.N. There were diplomats from all over the world who wanted to eat their own food. So by the time I was in high school I was eating Indonesian, Korean, Japanese, experimenting with food from all over. Then I went to Massachusetts [for college], where the food was so bad I was forced to learn how to cook. I started teaching myself.

What is your favorite comfort food?

It's gotta be fried rice or some pasta dish. I just had a cold, and twice made

EASY APPLE CRISP

USE ANY FRUIT YOU LIKE IN PLACE OF APPLES — SEASONAL BERRIES ARE FABULOUS — OR A COMBINATION

INGREDIENTS

- 5 tbsp. cold butter, plus more for greasing
- 6 cups peeled, cored and sliced apples (2 to 3 lbs.)
- Juice of 1 lemon
- 1 cup packed brown sugar

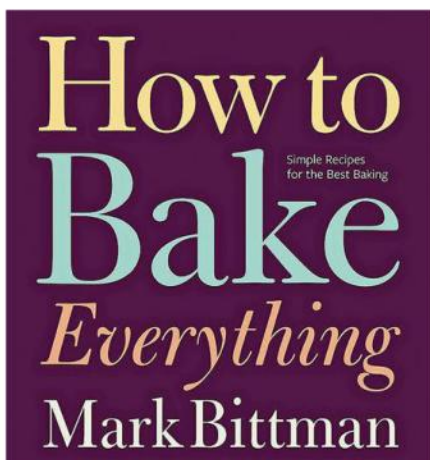

- 1 cup rolled oats (not instant)
- 1 cup flour
- Pinch of salt
- 1 cup chopped nuts (optional)
- Vanilla ice cream or whipped cream for serving

DIRECTIONS

1. Heat the oven to 400°. Cut the butter into 1-inch bits and put in the fridge or freezer. Lightly butter a square baking pan. Toss the apples with the lemon juice and 1 tablespoon of the brown sugar in a large bowl, and spread them out in the prepared pan.
2. Combine the chilled pieces of butter with the remaining brown sugar, the oats, flour, salt and nuts if you're using them in a food processor and pulse a few times, then process for a few seconds more, until everything is combined but not too finely ground. (To mix by hand, mash the mixture together between your fingers.)

3. Crumble the topping over the apples and bake for 30 to 40 minutes, until the topping is browned and the apples are tender and bubbling. (For individual fruit crisps, divide the fruit among individual ovenproof custard cups or ramekins (6- to 8-ounce) and sprinkle some topping on each.) Serve hot, warm or at room temperature, with ice cream or whipped cream if you like.

Mark's book, published by Houghton Mifflin Harcourt and featuring more than 2,000 recipes, is available for $35 wherever books are sold.

basically pasta with broth. I made this good chicken-duck stock with carrots and added Parmesan and pasta. And then sort of the same thing, but with sesame oil and soy sauce. Just change a few things and in two seconds, you can be in a completely different world. That was always my philosophy.

I love that minimalist approach. It teaches people not to be afraid.

I think it's because I taught myself. I never had any chefs yelling at me, throwing things at me. Y'know, I was just cooking for my wife and kids and they never said, "Oh, you fked this up." They just said, "This is great!"

But people are afraid to bake. Why?

There's this weird notion that cooking is art and baking is science, so you have to be a chemist or a wizard to bake. It's ridiculous. You have to be able to measure a little bit. Cooking, you don't really even have to measure. Baking, you have to measure; but if [a recipe] said 1 teaspoon baking powder and you used [a regular spoon] instead of a measuring spoon, you'd be fine. To be intimidated is ridiculous. OK!

"We are disappointed that [Tamron] has chosen to leave, but we wish her all the best," NBC said.

SHAKE-UP AT TODAY

AS NBC MAKES ROOM FOR MEGYN KELLY, TAMRON HALL MOVES ON

She'll be missed. In the latest round of news-anchor musical chairs, popular Today show cohost Tamron Hall has abruptly parted ways with NBC News and MSNBC. "The last 10 years have been beyond anything I could have imagined, and I'm grateful," said Tamron, who joined NBC News in 2007 — and made history when she was named Today's first female African American coanchor in 2014 — in a statement. "I'm also very excited about the next chapter."

The 46-year-old broadcast journalist was reportedly offered a multiyear, multimillion-dollar contract to stay on. But it was a blow to learn that the 9 AM hour of Today, which Tamron cohosted with Al Roker — who recently tweeted that it was "the #1 morning show 7 weeks in a row" — would be jettisoned to make room for Megyn Kelly, the network's high-profile new hire. Tamron's last day on air was Jan. 31 — without so much as a farewell segment to send her off. "She was obviously hurt by that decision, especially since she and Al had been killing it in the ratings," an insider tells OK!. "She really felt she'd earned her spot."

A DELICATE BALANCE

Of course, a certain measure of upheaval has been expected ever since Jan. 3, when Megyn, 46, announced that she was leaving Fox News for NBC. (Reportedly, she'll anchor her own Sunday newsmagazine program and also take on an hour on weekday mornings when she begins in the fall.) Some TV-world insiders "are wondering exactly how Megyn will fit in with Today's other talent," says the source. "That show depends on personality and chemistry, and Tamron was so well-liked, by fans as well as her colleagues."

But "change is part of the business," noted Al, who'll remain to host the first two hours of Today, after the shake-up. As for Tamron, who continues to host Deadline: Crime on Investigation Discovery, stay tuned.

POINT, COUNTERPOINT

AFTER CHARMING FANS WITH HER WISECRACKS ON REALITY TV, NICOLE RICHIE HAS BEEN TAPPED FOR A COMEDY ABOUT CABLE NEWS

NICOLE'S

NEXT ACT

Anyone who's seen Nicole Richie playing herself (or some version of it) on The Simple Life or Candidly Nicole knows that she's naturally funny. But when she debuts as broadcast journalist Portia in NBC's Great News (from executive producer Tina Fey) on April 25, her comedy chops will get a serious workout. The 35-year-old serial reinventor — and mom of daughter Harlow, 9, and son Sparrow, 7, whom she shares with her rocker husband, Joel Madden, 37 — talks about getting laughs, creating family rituals and not letting her superstar adoptive dad, Lionel, get too near the cameras.

How would you describe Portia, your character on Great News?

It's easy to pin her as this flighty ditz, but she is nobody's fool. She wants to share the news — it's just questionable what she considers news. Chuck [her coanchor, played by John Michael Higgins] wants to report on actual news that's going on in the world, and Portia wants to report about Snapchat and lipstick and anything pertaining to her. That's where a lot of friction comes into play.

Did you always know you had comedy in your blood?

I know that I'm a jokester. I love playing pranks on friends. I [was] class clown in high school, so at least that award got me somewhere.

What was the casting process like?

I auditioned — a few times, actually. I had just landed in Indianapolis on tour [with husband Joel], and I was told, "If you want this job, you need to come back and read one more time." So I said, "Kids, I've got to go." They were like, "What?" But you know what? It worked out.

Would you want your kids to go into entertainment?

Not as kids, no. [Later], who knows?

Do you have rules at home, like you all have to eat dinner together?

We do try and keep family traditions. We have one night a week where no one leaves the house, and that's really important, because everyone's lives move around so fast.

Has your dad seen the show yet?

He hasn't seen it. We sent him a photo, and he replied with, like, 9 million emojis because he doesn't know how to use them correctly. But he is so excited.

Maybe he could make a guest appearance?

He would love it. I didn't let him on set because he would have finagled his way into the show. He loves a camera! OK!

ENDLESS LOVE

Nicole calls dad Lionel "an incredible performer. He's 'on' all the time. I look at him, and I'm like, 'I don't know how you do it.'"

IT'S IN THE GENES!

THESE CELEBS AREN'T THE ONLY SUCCESSES IN THEIR FAMILIES...

Cross Brad Pitt with Zach Braff and you get... Doug Pitt!

BRAD & DOUG PITT

Doug may not have followed his older bro into showbiz, but it seems philanthropy runs in the family. While Brad launched the Make It Right Foundation to help rebuild New Orleans after Hurricane Katrina, Doug, 50, created the Care To Learn Fund, a program dedicated to meeting the health needs of students in Springfield, Mo., public schools, where both brothers spent their early years. In 2010, the businessman turned humanitarian was named Goodwill Ambassador to Tanzania, which surely must've helped him bond with his former sister-in-law. The gig also inspired creative fund-raising initiatives such as a 2011 trek up Mount Kilimanjaro, which raised $750,000 for clean water projects — and helped him become the first American to descend the landmark on a mountain bike.

Flawless makeup comes easy for this gorgeous pair.

RACHEL & KAYLEEN MCADAMS

Rachel always looks stunning on the red carpet, and it may just be thanks to her younger sister. Kayleen is a celebrity makeup artist who counts Sofia Vergara, Jessica Biel, Zoey Deschanel and, of course, her big sis among her clients. She also credits Rachel with inspiring her career. "I am forever grateful to my sister that she saw a love and passion for makeup in me and helped me find my creative voice," she says. "Growing up in a very small town, I made my [previous] choices from a lack of awareness of how many amazing creative jobs are out there."

IT'S IN THE GENES!

One of these things is not like the other...

MILEY & BRANDI CYRUS

Get ready to see more Cyrus! Miley's half sister Brandi is set to star opposite mom Tish in a new interior design competition show, Cyrus vs. Cyrus. The Bravo reality series will pit mother against daughter as they try to win over prospective clients with their home-renovation plans. But participants shouldn't expect (or fear) that Brandi's visions will be aligned with her little sister's, er, eclectic taste. Judging from the 29-year-old's fashion blog Style|Native, her tastes are far more demure.

James feels the need,
the need for speed!

RUPERT & JAMES GRINT

Rupert — Harry Potter's Ron Weasley — isn't the only Grint brother pulling off a little career magic. Little bro James, 26, competed in the European Rallycross Championships in 2015 and 2016 and has his sights set on one day steering his way to the crown.

Nothing miz about these handsome blokes!

EDDIE & TOM REDMAYNE

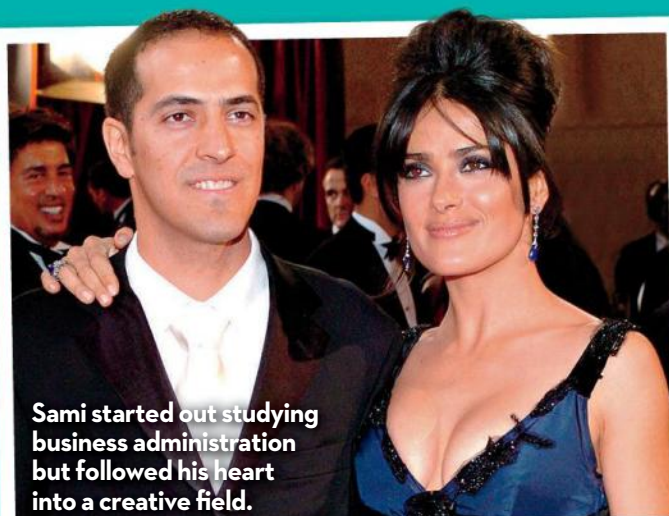

Eddie may have an Oscar, but his younger brother Tom, director of business development at WiredScore in the U.K. (an outfit that certifies buildings with the fastest Internet connections), is scooping up accolades in his own field. Estates Gazette, the country's leading real estate journal, named him Rising Star of 2016. Go get 'em, boys!

Matt has said that as kids, he and Kyle "fought like crazy."

MATT & KYLE DAMON

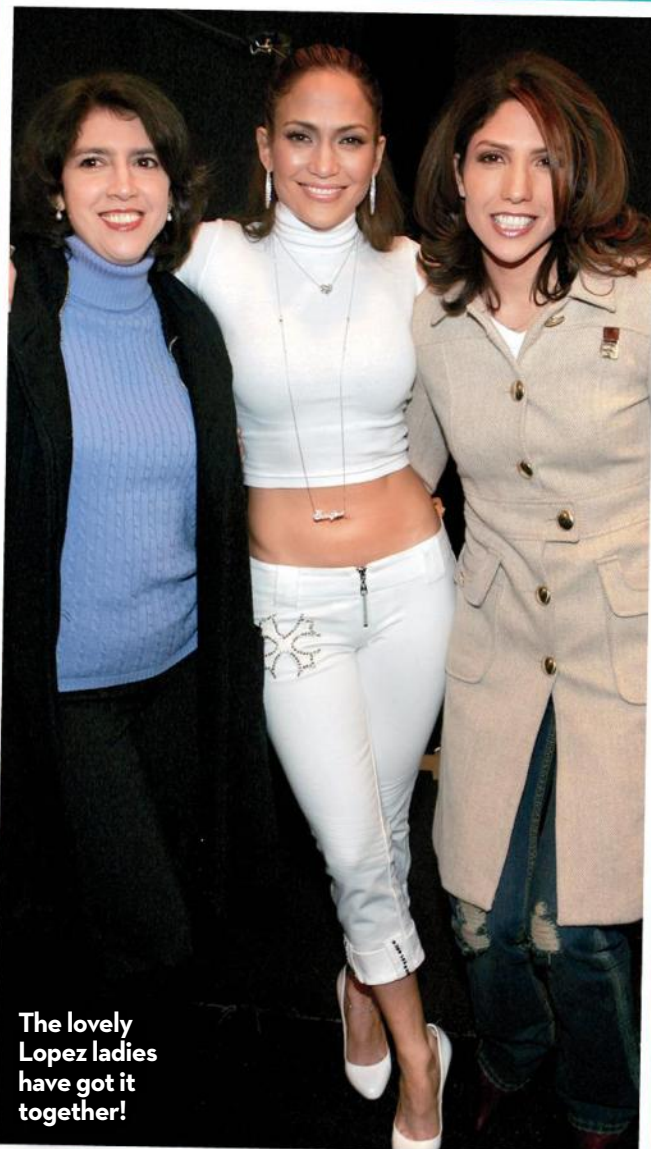

Despite their different lifestyles, the Damon brothers remain incredibly close. Matt's sole sibling still lives in the Boston area with his family, working as a sculptor, but the pair make sure to get in some bonding time. In 2009, Kyle, who is also an accomplished distance athlete, convinced Matt to participate in South Africa's Cape Argus Cycle Tour, a 110-km bike race, for charity. While Kyle, 55, says both men came out of the experience stronger, Matt complained his backside was "swollen in the shape of a bike seat." That's a baby brother for you.

Sami started out studying business administration but followed his heart into a creative field.

SALMA & SAMI HAYEK

Salma's brother hasn't let himself be defined as the guy with a smokin'-hot older sister. Sami runs a successful design firm in L.A. and immerses himself in a variety of creative projects, from creating a concept aircraft for luxury automaker Bentley to planning a housing development in Tijuana, Mexico. Word is that plenty of Salma's celeb friends have commissioned custom home furnishings from him, too — including design buff Brad Pitt!

The lovely Lopez ladies have got it together!

JENNIFER & LYNDA LOPEZ & LESLIE SCHOLL

If J.Lo ever suffered from middle-child syndrome, she's certainly made up for it! But her sisters are no slouches. Younger sis Lynda, 45, has made a name for herself in broadcast journalism with early gigs as an entertainment reporter on VH1 and E! News followed by a move to Fox5's Good Day New York, where she served as coanchor and even won a 2001 Emmy Award for Outstanding Morning News Program. Meanwhile, Jen's older sister Leslie, 49, hasn't moved too far from their old South Bronx block, working as an elementary school teacher in tony Westchester County, N.Y. Jen's fame hasn't exactly fazed her, either. "She's a famous movie star to all of you, but not to me," she told Oprah Winfrey years ago. "She's still my little pain-in-the-butt sister. So there you go."

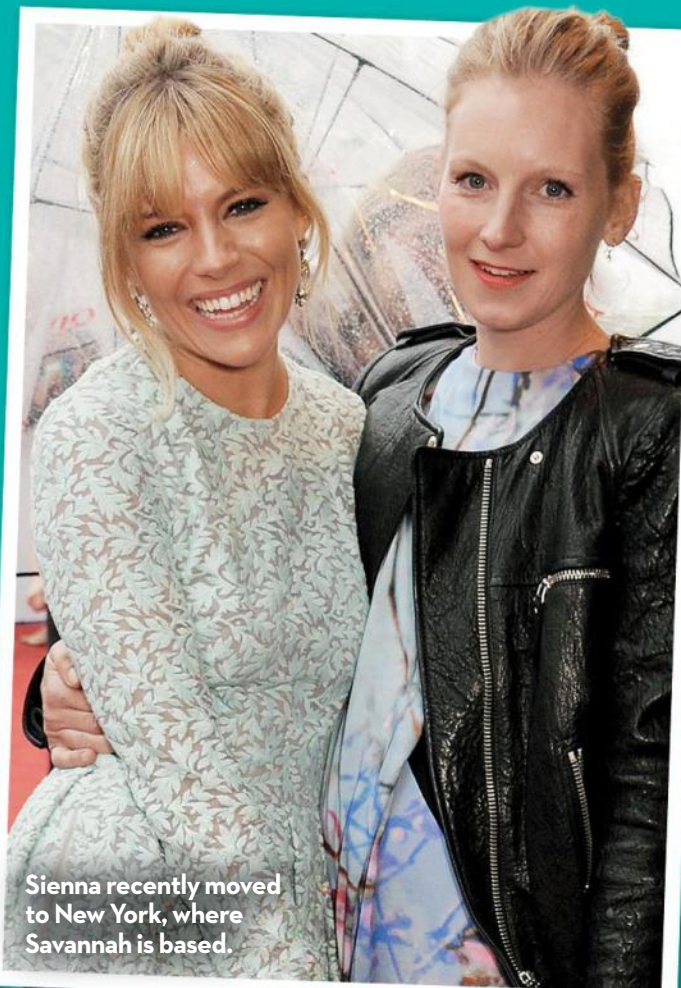

IT'S IN THE GENES!

Drew's all business—especially when it comes to standing up for his little sis.

RENÉE & DREW ZELLWEGER

Renée's older brother Drew, a successful marketing executive based in Dallas, prefers to stay out of the spotlight. In fact, a neighbor of his once told reporters that he's never even mentioned his Oscar-winning sib: "We've talked about his fence and about the yard. Who is his sister?" Not to say that Drew isn't aware of Renée's accomplishments in Hollywood. "I've never been so proud of anybody," he told The Dallas Morning News. "Ever."

Sienna recently moved to New York, where Savannah is based.

SIENNA & SAVANNAH MILLER

It's easy to be one of the most stylish stars in Hollywood when you have a designer as a sister! After graduating from London's prestigious Central Saint Martins College of Arts and Design, Sienna's older sib honed her skills under legendary British designers Alexander McQueen and Matthew Williamson. In 2006, the Miller sisters teamed up to launch their own label, Twenty8Twelve, with Savannah eventually going solo to start an eponymous label. Not that there's any bad blood. The 38-year-old admits she still turns to Sienna for advice: "We do that anyway because we're sisters and best friends."

Griffin and Hailee live life in the fast lane.

HAILEE & GRIFFIN STEINFELD

One look at his Instagram account and it's easy to see Griffin is a big fan of his famous little sister — but the studly 23-year-old also has plenty of fans of his own! Griffin grew up off-road racing and was a Nascar driver from 2012 to 2014. He now runs a YouTube channel dedicated to all things auto.

We'd recognize that collarbone anywhere!

NICOLE & ANTONIA KIDMAN

Back in Australia, Nicole's little sister is a star in her own right. The journalist, 46, won Favorite TV Personality twice at the ASTRA Awards for her work on the series From Here to Maternity and has written two successful books on parenting. With six children at home, it's safe to assume she knows what she's talking about!

Hunter got his famous sis to host fund-raisers for his political candidates. Smart guy!

SCARLETT & HUNTER JOHANSSON

Don't think for a second that Hunter's only gig is that of red carpet escort to his famous twin. The 32-year-old is active in politics, having worked on President Obama's campaigns in 2008 and 2012, as well as working as a community organizer for Manhattan Borough President Scott Stringer's office in New York. And ladies, rest assured those good looks aren't going to waste: He's also dabbled in modeling!

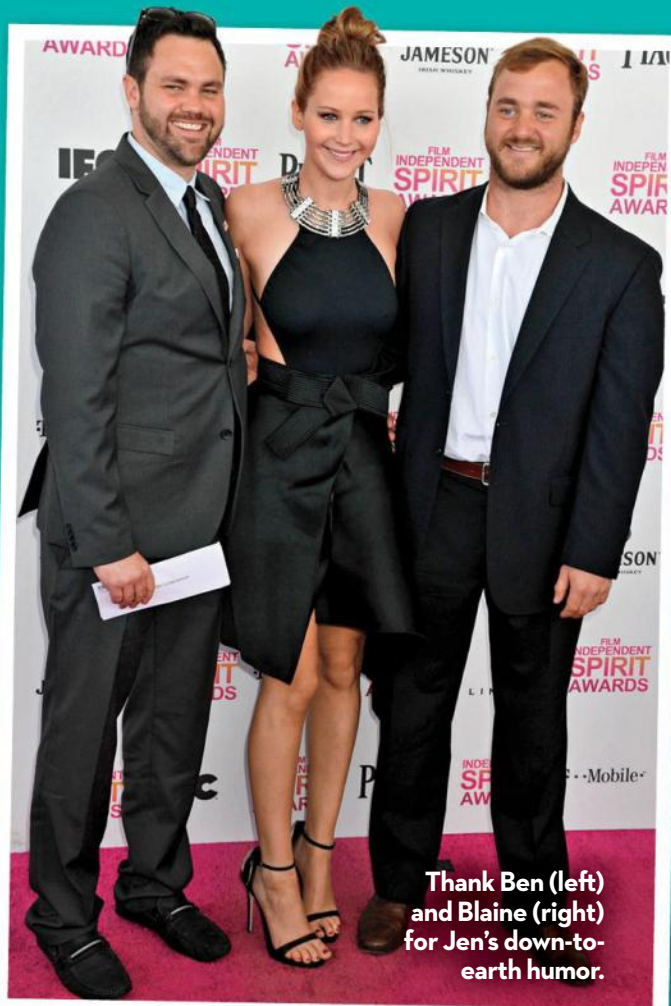

IT'S IN THE GENES!

Taylor's bro is getting ready to take Hollywood!

TAYLOR & AUSTIN SWIFT

You've seen him wrangling cats and hanging with the squad on Taylor's Instagram, but now may be the time to click and follow Austin as well! After honing his acting skills at the University of Notre Dame, the 24-year-old is ready to conquer Hollywood in his own right. Last year Austin had small roles in the dramas Live by Night and I.T., and next he'll star alongside Katie Cassidy in Cover Versions, out later this year. No doubt Tay is completely invested in her role as super supportive big sis.

JENNIFER, BLAINE & BEN LAWRENCE

JLaw's made it pretty clear she can hang with the boys, thanks to growing up with two older brothers. So who are these dudes? Her oldest sibling, Ben, is an accomplished businessman who co-owns Louisville Geek, a company that helps businesses with their tech needs. Younger brother Blaine runs Camp Hi-Ho, a day camp for kids in Kentucky — though he may be familiar even to noncampers. Blaine's 2014 nuptials were featured on the cover of Martha Stewart's Real Weddings, with Jen standing tall as a bridesmaid.

These brunette beauties used to collaborate — until Gesine struck out on her own.

SANDRA BULLOCK & GESINE BULLOCK-PRADO

It's safe to assume that Sandy has a real sweet spot for her little sis. In 1995, the pair cofounded the production company Fortis Films, and Gesine helped develop many of Sandra's films including Miss Congeniality 2 and Practical Magic. In 2004, she left the film industry to pursue another passion, baking — and it worked out pretty well: Since then she's authored four cookbooks and a memoir, appeared on countless morning shows, and joined the cast of Unique Sweets on the Cooking Channel. Let's just hope it hasn't puffed up her ego.

JAMES & MIKE CAMERON

James couldn't have turned Titanic 3-D without his brother, who happens to be an aerospace engineer. To add drama to the film, the Oscar-winning filmmaker wanted to get footage from inside the real wreck, which lies 12,600 feet below sea level. After realizing his cameras would not be able to function at that depth, he contracted Michael's firm, Dark Matter, to create the robot camera vehicles that eventually made it down there successfully. Teamwork!

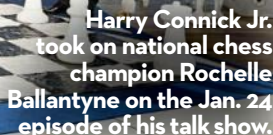

Natasha's paintings often feature seminude women.

JUDE & ANDREA LAW

Jude may be the actor, but his big sister Andrea — who goes by her middle name, Natasha — is the real artist. The 47-year-old graphic designer and painter even got the Goop seal of approval: In 2013 Gwyneth Paltrow selected her as a limited-edition collaborator, commissioning a series of prints. Natasha's edgy mixed-media works are a favorite among the fashion set, and she's created custom artwork for brands including Vogue, Tiffany & Co. and Max Mara. Jude's got a few pieces hanging at home as well.

HOW A BUSY MOM GOT FIT, FAST

As a mom to an active 2-year-old, Fida Varela had no time or energy to devote to weight loss – that is, until she discovered Hydroxycut. "Losing weight is a combination of the right diet supplements, exercise, nutrition plan and fitness guidance," says Fida. "I found Hydroxycut to be the best way to do that." The supplement brand says its new Platinum formula – a blend of key weight-loss ingredients, naturally sourced energy, plus probiotics and vitamins – boosts metabolism and energy, helping your body metabolize fats, proteins and carbs. "I feel so confident after completing my 17 weeks of transformation," Fida says. "I'm ready to show the world my accomplishment." To start your own weight-loss journey, check out Hydroxycut's Transformation Program at hydroxycut.com/transformation for tools and tips – including a meal plan, exercise program and supplement guide – or download the new app.

MOVIE PREVIEWS

FIST FIGHT

Charlie Day, Ice Cube, Tracy Morgan | R | Feb. 17

Nice-guy English teacher Andy (It's Always Sunny in Philadelphia's Charlie Day) is a frequent target of student pranks and a scapegoat for colleagues at their high school. But when he stands up for himself one day — landing fellow teacher

Ron (Ice Cube) in hot water in the process — he opens himself up to a world of hurt. Ron challenges Andy to an old-school brawl after the final bell of the day... and the entire school shows up to watch him get a butt-kicking.

THE GREAT WALL

Matt Damon, Pedro Pascal, Willem Dafoe | PG-13 | Feb. 17

In this action-packed epic, a group of European mercenaries including William Garin (Matt Damon) and Pero Tovar (Pedro Pascal) travel the globe in search of gunpowder, but when they come across the Great Wall of China, they're seized by the country's soldiers. While in captivity, the warriors learn that the wall wasn't built to keep foreigners out, but to keep the Chinese people safe from alien monsters that rear their ugly heads every 60 years — and this anniversary, they've arrived early. After William and Pero display their fighting prowess, they're freed so they can help battle the beasts.

The film is the biggest production between China and Hollywood, with an estimated budget of $150 million.

TV PREVIEW

BIG LITTLE LIES

Sun., Feb. 19, at 9 PM ET on HBO

This new dark comedy based on the best-selling novel of the same title aims to prove that there's more to everyone than meets the eye. In picturesque Monterey, Calif., where everyone puts up a façade, mothers Madeline (Reese Witherspoon) and Celeste (Nicole Kidman) warmly embrace single mom Jane (Shailene Woodley), who's new to town. As the three women spend more and more time together, they learn they're not alone in feeding lies to themselves and others in order to keep up appearances — but eventually, those minor fibs entangle them in a major murder mystery.

LAUREN BLUMENFELD

STAR OF DOUBT

She's an assistant to a renowned, high-powered lawyer (played by Katherine Heigl), but Lucy is "not the sharpest knife in the drawer," says Lauren Blumenfeld, who plays the character on CBS' new legal drama Doubt. The actress talked to OK! about the new series and her famous costars.

This show looks intense, yet Lucy seems like kind of a flighty, quirky character.

Lucy's a bit of comic relief. She's very well-meaning and kind of balances out some of the seriousness in the office. She's always doing things like hiding ice cream sandwiches or adopting a teacup pig! It's a bit of a departure from the normal legal drama, which is part of what makes the show fun. Every character has some moments of levity.

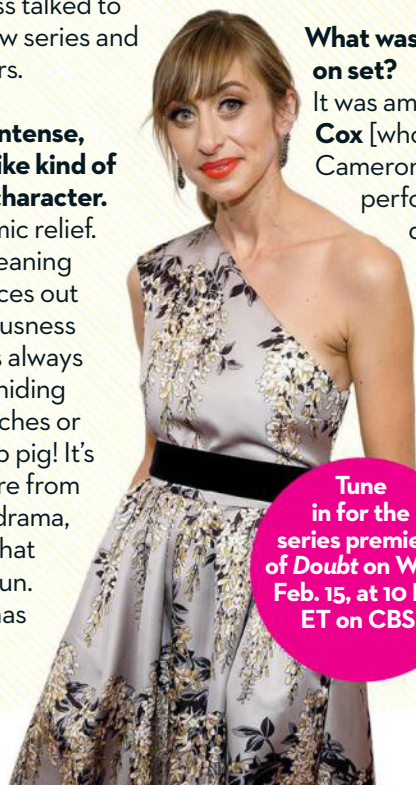

Katherine Heigl plays your boss, legal eagle Sadie. What's she like?

She's so lovely and so generous and funny. She's also just a true pro. Katherine is one of those actors that really make things look effortless and natural.

What was the atmosphere on set?

It was amazing. Laverne Cox [who plays trans lawyer Cameron Wirth] is a brilliant performer and would do some Beyoncé choreography between takes. There was definitely a sense of humor, which I really appreciated. And hopefully that off-camera dynamic will lend itself to a playfulness onscreen that'll be interesting.

Tune in for the series premiere of Doubt on Wed., Feb. 15, at 10 PM ET on CBS.

MAYRA VERÓNICA TRAVELS THE GLOBE AS A MODEL AND POP SINGER. SHE SHARES HER FAVORITE INSIDER HOTSPOTS IN A NEW COLUMN. THIS WEEK: VEGAS, BABY!

The lights of the MGM Grand are a beacon to bachelors and bachelorettes!

MGM's Skylofts offer grand, airy accommodations and perks fit for a king (or queen).

As Las Vegas has become a go-to destination over the past decade, luxury hotels have sprung up all over the desert to cater to giddy vacationers psyched to splurge for a weekend. But the best-kept secret among them all is actually the MGM Grand. Yes, it's been a behemoth on the Strip for 24 years (it's actually the largest single hotel in the U.S.). So what's the secret? The property's Skylofts—spacious private apartments of up to three bedrooms that have the feel of a New York City loft. With amazing views, incredible walk-in closets and amenities, such as a personal, 24-hour butler and a complimentary Rolls-Royce to take you wherever you'd like to go, it's easy to see why they're a favorite choice for poker champs like Jamie Gold.

It was the perfect home base for my New Year's Eve celebration, which started at Ghostbar atop the Palms Casino Resort, where we watched the mesmerizing fireworks, and ended at the tables in the High Limit Room of MGM's Mansion, right next to none other than J.Lo and Drake. With that kind of luck, I doubled down on a 14 with $5,000 at stake and won. It was the beginning of a beautiful and blissful year!

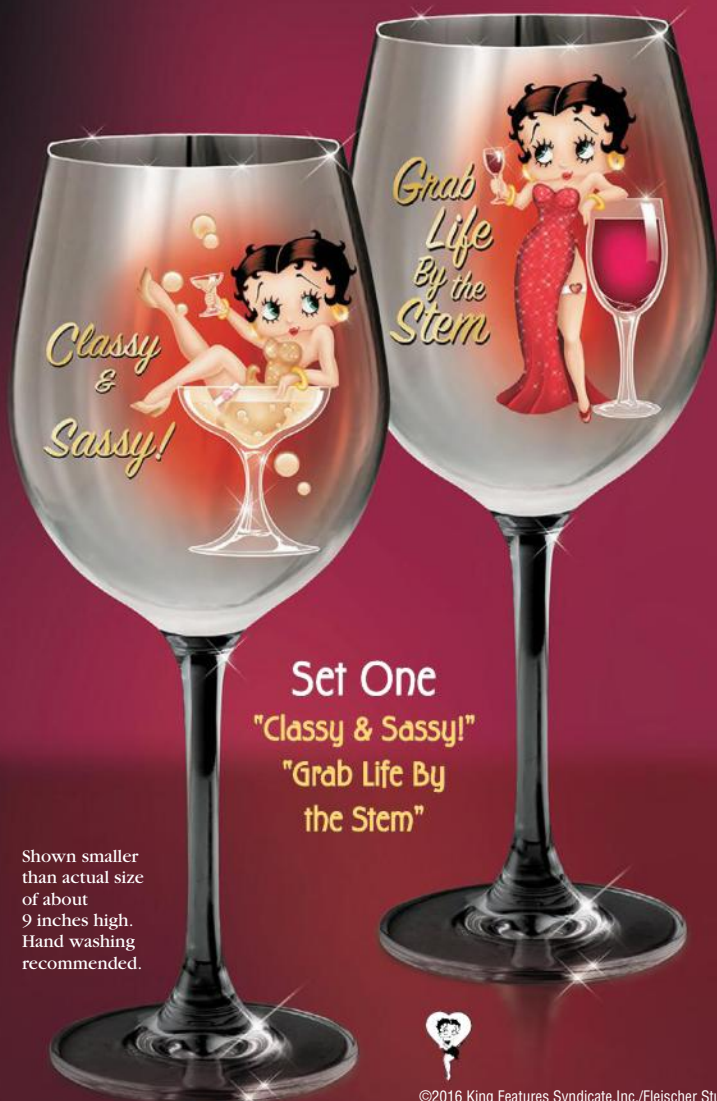

Mayra took in the Strip's New Year's Eve celebration with fellow revelers.

Khloé captioned her Jan. 29 snap from Costa Rica “Island Vibes” (though Costa Rica is not an island).

THE CURIOUS CASE OF KHLOÉ'S FACE

She's had so much success with her “revenge body,” is Khloé Kardashian now going for a “revenge face”? Though the reality star claimed last year that getting fillers had made her face look “crazy” and left her “afraid” to mess with her mug again, a recent selfie suggests she got over her fears. From her lineless skin to her puffed-up pout and weirdly buttonlike nose, it seems like Khlo's been doing the kind of work on her looks that doesn't happen in a gym.

In 2014, Khloé still looked vaguely human and not like a walking Snapchat filter.

Shocking At Home Fix For Crepe Skin

LOS ANGELES (HH) -- Many noteworthy displays of innovation were featured in 2017.

However, this year's most talked-about presentation came courtesy of cosmetic surgeons, John Layke and Payman Danielpour (of the Beverly Hills Plastic Surgery Group), who shocked both industry colleagues and members of the press, with an astonishing anti-aging breakthrough.

The doctors unveiled, what is officially, the world's first at-home treatment for the appearance of crepey skin. In clinical trials, this unusual technique was found to effectively tighten and actually smoothen skin around the arms, neck, chest, legs, and other areas.

According to their research, loose skin adds significantly more years to a person's perceived age than wrinkles, fine lines, or pigment changes—which is why they trained their focus on this particular affliction.

And when the doctors demonstrated just how quickly and effectively it worked on volunteers from the audience, it became clear to everyone that their discovery is nothing short of groundbreaking.

Previously, the only way to alleviate the look of crepey skin was through highly invasive, surgical procedures. But Layke and Danielpour have now makes it possible to combat the effects of gravity, using a simple, fast-acting process, which patients can self-administer.

Needless to say, the presentation was met with thunderous applause, and bewildered questions from the audience.

But the latest development in this story came just last week, when the video version of the presentation (put together by Dr. Layke for industry professionals who were unable to attend in person this year) was made available to the public online.

As of this writing, the video has over four million views and is quickly becoming a social media phenomenon.
